More Forest Reserves May Be Closed

HUGE FIRES DAMAGING TIMBER

Rewards Will Be Paid for Arrest and Conviction Of All Firebugs

BULLETIN
SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—All but one and a half miles of a ten-mile front of the Forest Hill divide fire in the Tahoe national forest was lost today when a roaring wind rushed down upon the smouldering area, fanning it into a conflagration that threatens thousands of acres. It was reported today by the United States forest service. More than 100 men were rushed to the vicinity and the force at work in the area now totals 300.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—With more than 1,000,000 acres of federal reserves closed to the public in California as a result of the series of disastrous forest fires which today are increasing in intensity, Paul G. Redington, district forester, today announced that rewards totalling $500 will be paid for the arrest and conviction of firebugs whom he suspects have been responsible for at least two of the blazes. These men are under arrest in Newhall on suspicion of incendiarism.

Redington also announced that his department was considering closing 2,000,000 additional acres within the next few days in an effort to prevent incendiaries and careless persons from further jeopardizing state forests.

Situation Critical
The situation in seven counties of the state was declared to be the most critical in history because of the extended drought and the three-months' period yet intervening before autumn rains. Three major blazes were eating paths over a wide area into Sequoia, Tahoe and Santa Barbara national forests and as many thousands of men were ineffectually trying to stem their advance. All of these blazes were out of control today and so wide are the areas being consumed that small hope is entertained of quenching them within the next several days.

MONTGOMERY CREEK, Cal., July 12.—The forest fire between here and Hatchet Creek mountain today had developed into the largest in the history of this section of Shasta county. The subsidence of a high wind is assisting the 100 men fighting the blaze and, while not under

Fire In Santa Barbara Forest Again Menaces

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—"Criminal foolishness" on the part of some person as yet unknown, sent the fire which has been raging in Santa Barbara national forest, roaring on a fresh career of destruction at noon today, utterly beyond the control of the hundreds of men who had been massed along the sixteen-mile blazing front by state and federal officials.

The new outbreak, according to word here from C. E. Jordan, supervisor of the forest, was caused by a back fire, set five miles away from the blaze. As a result, scores of ranches are in grave peril, while forestry officials express grave doubt that scores of summer cabins, together with the exclusive headquarters of the Tweedy gun club in King's canyon can be saved from the red tide of disaster.

Butterfly

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

Will appear in The Glendale Evening News beginning Monday, July 14, on the magazine page. It's a gripping story! Starts next Monday, remember.

This is the Kathleen Norris of more than 6,000,000 readers, the Kathleen Norris of The Story of Julia Page, and Josselyn's Wife, the author whose ability to tell a story is never questioned by even the "severest critics," and whose name on the back of a magazine or the jacket of a book is a magnet of increasing power, holding the friends it has already made and at the same time adding every year thousands of new ones. Before the little girl, Dora, or Butterfly, was 4 years old she played enchanting duets with her sister, and by the time she was 18 she was ready to study abroad. Kronske, greatest of violinists, had promised to teach her. But Butterfly was cursed with that tricky something folks call "artistic temperament." She fell in love, abandoned her career and placed all of ambition to perfect her great gift behind her to marry an enormously wealthy man. For a while she was supremely happy. Then the old call to her genius surged hauntingly and relentlessly and she returned to her violin. At almost the height of her re-attempted career she was distracted again; she fell deeply in love with her teacher. Then her sister and her husband, who had never ceased to adore her, stepped in and pointed out the way to happiness. Kathleen Norris' deft pen pictures vivid contrasts; Butterfly emphasizes sharply the truth that happiness is to be found in simple things, which is the backbone of Mrs. Norris' creed.

PERMIT FOR NEW HOTEL SECURED

Building to Cost $100,000 to Be Erected at Wilson, Maryland Avenues

A four-story, 50-room apartment hotel costing $100,000 is to be erected at once on the southeast corner of Maryland and Wilson avenues, on a 100 by 100 foot site valued at $50,000, bringing the total investment to $150,000.

The nine-unit bungalow court, formerly located on the site of the new hotel, was recently moved to 1206-08 Viola street. A permit for $55,000 has been issued from the office of H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent, to J. W. Usilton, A. D. Hadley and William Koschell, who have let the general contract to Malcolm Smith of Glendale. An additional permit will be taken out later, for the balance of the construction cost, the builders state.

Start Work Monday

Ground will be broken Monday. The plans, drawn by Max Maltzman of Hollywood, call for ruffled brick and steel construction, with trimmings and arch stones. The hotel will have elevator service. The lobby will be on Wilson avenue. On one side will be the entrance to the dining room and on the other the real estate office of J. W. Usilton and A. D. Hadley. There will be stores on the Maryland avenue front.

The faith of the builders in the continued prosperity of Glendale is concretely expressed in the construction of this large structure. They see in the present comparatively quiet period only a lull before another great period of activity.

See Greater Glendale

"Present conditions throughout Southern California are only temporary," says Mr. Hadley, "and have already been largely overcome. We have been planning this hotel for some time and would have started it sooner, but deferred action until we were sure of the situation. "Glendale is strong and is going to be stronger. We are staking over $100,000 that prosperity this fall and winter is going to be greater than ever before. Throngs of tourists and prospective residents are going to be here and

Boy Drowned, Brother Rescued At LaCrescenta

The life of Vernon DeHoog, of LaCrescenta, was saved today by the prompt action of Chief A. H. Lankford and Captain R. E. Dods-worth of the Glendale Fire department, with a lungmotor after the youth and his brother had drowned in a reservoir near Pennsylvania and Honolulu avenues in LaCrescenta.

The firemen were unable to save the life of the other brother, The father of the boys is Harry De Hoog, who has an oil station at Colorado and Verdugo road, Glendale.

The call for the lungmotor was received at the central station at 1:30 o'clock and a quick run was made to the scene. They worked for nearly two hours before restoring life to one of the youths. Details concerning how the youths fell in the reservoir are lacking, but it is reported both youths were apparently dead when taken from the water.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—A new world's record for sustained flight by seaplanes was established today by the naval bomber CS-2. The official flying time, according to the navy department, was 15 hours, 17 minutes, which breaks all previous flying records for planes of that type.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES PRAISED

Professional Connections of Ticket's Head Declared Without Suspicion

NEW YORK, July 12.—William Gibbs McAdoo today broke his silence on political matters, styled John W. Davis as a "progressive" and urged his followers to support him in the coming presidential election.

Admitting that there had been some doubt as to Davis' progressivism because of his association with "big banking houses and corporate interests," McAdoo said that such doubts were unjustified. A lawyer, he declared, is to be no more judged by his clients than a physician by his patients.

McAdoo's statement was given out by him at the dock just before he sailed for Europe. "Mr. Davis and I have been friends for twelve years and I had the pleasure of discussing the political situation with him yesterday," McAdoo said.

"The great body of progressive Democrats who supported me so strongly in the convention have been anxious to know what my attitude was towards Mr. Davis' candidacy and my visit was for the purpose of learning from Mr. Davis direct his views on important issues before the country. "I am satisfied he is in full accord with the progressive program outlined in the Democratic platform."

Professional Duties

"Mr. Davis' professional connections and associations with great banking houses and corporate interests which are conceded ethical in every way, have raised doubts in the minds of many as to his progressivism and his complete sympathy with the interest of the people. "These doubts are not justified because a lawyer's views on economic and social problems are no more to be judged by his professional associations, than is a physician to be judged by the character of his patients. "Mr. Davis should be judged by his own opinions—not those of his clients, and by the impression of sincerity and ability he creates in the public discussion of issues."

Of High Character

"There is a deep-seated determination on the part of the progressive forces in the Democratic party and those outside of it desiring to co-operate to force prompt and decisive action on the part of the next administration for solution of the pressing problems of agriculture, transportation, tariff, taxation and foreign relations which have been so horribly manhandled by the Republican administration."

Factors Consolidation

"The influence and power of these progressive forces must not be dissipated by dissension between various political movements. They must rather be consolidated and used like an irresistible battering ram on that party which offers the best instrumentality of service to the people. Clearly there is no progress in the Republican party; clearly there is progress in the Democratic party."

"The hope of genuine reform and progress is more likely to be realized at this time through the Democratic party than through any other."

I, therefore, shall give the Davis-Bryan ticket my cordial support and shall take part in the campaign on my return early in September."

Actions of Flores Followers Causing Uneasiness to Federal Officials

MEXICO CITY, July 12.—Official returns on the vote cast in last Sunday's election show that General Plutarco Elias Calles defeated General Angel Flores, his only rival, by 41,455 votes to 8,540. The returns also indicate that Calles will have a majority in the Chamber of Deputies.

The election passed off without any disturbances of any importance, but Governor Ramon Ross of the Federal District declared that some of Flores' followers were causing uneasiness by their seditious utterances toward the government. It is impossible, however, to say positively that these seditious actions are prompted by the defeated candidate.

Calles was formerly governor of the state of Sonora, and is friendly toward the United States.

WORLD MARK FALLS FOUR TIMES IN ONE DAY

Yankee Flashes Cut Full Second From Time Made At Antwerp In 1920

COLOMBES STADIUM, France, July 12.—World's records in the 400 metre relay fell hard and often in the Olympic stadium this afternoon and when the cinder dust had settled Uncle Sam walked off the field with a new record of 41 1-5 seconds, a full second faster than the record established by the American team in Antwerp in 1920.

This performance came after the British four had knocked a fifth of a second off the record by flashing over the track in forty-two seconds flat and after the Holland sprinters had equalled the British mark. The Swiss team had won its heat in 42 1-5, and things looked gloomy for the Stars and Stripes.

Set Final Record
Alf Leconey, former Penn State star; Louis Clark of Johns Hopkins; Francis Hussey, New York schoolboy, and Loren Murchison, national sprint champion, emerged with the final record after the most hectic series of relays in the world's athletic history—a period of half an hour which saw the old record of 42 1-5 seconds beaten four times.

The record of 42 1-5 seconds was made in 1920 by Scholz, Murchison, Kirksey and Paddock. Finland won the cross-country team race, their wonderful pair, Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritchee, finishing first and second. The United States took second place in the team score, landing third, sixth and eighth places, with Earl Johnson of Pittsburgh, F. Sudehroth and August Faeger of New York.

Standing of Nations

When the judges finished tallying up the points in the cross-country team race, the Finns, as expected, placed first with 11 points, the United States second with 14 and France third with 20. Nurmi set a terrific pace and won fresh without sprinting. He was 400 yards in front of Ritchee, who was a like distance ahead of Johnson.

Record Broken

Aid came to the hard-pressed American Olympic athletes from an unexpected source today when Senor Brunoto, a dusky son of the Argentine, smashed the Olympic record in the hop, step and jump and took an almost certain first place from mighty little Finland, America's most dangerous foe.

ORDINANCE CUTS FIRE ZONE DEPTH

New Law Becomes Effective
July 25; Buildings
May Be Moved

EAGLE ROCK, July 12.—The Los Angeles City Council has passed an ordinance which decreases the depth of the local fire zone from 140 to 150 feet. The ordinance will become effective July 25, according to O. Phillips, Eagle Rock building inspector.

Another ordinance becoming effective on the same date states "Any building in fire district 3, (Eagle Rock) may be moved from one location to another on the same lot."

The changing of the fire zone releases a large amount of property from restrictions that were considered by many property owners as inconsistent and detrimental to the development of the community. Following is the ordinance which will be effective on and after July 25, 1924:

Eagle Rock district:
All the territory on both sides of Colorado boulevard within one hundred feet (100 ft.) of any boundary line of said Colorado boulevard from College View avenue to Townsend avenue; and all of the territory on both sides of Eagle Rock boulevard within one hundred (100) feet of any boundary line of said Eagle Rock boulevard from a line parallel with and one hundred (100) feet north-ward of Colorado boulevard to Addison Way.

Two Zone Changes
Two changes in zoning which have been petitioned by property owners here are under way, according to a communication from Robert Dominguez, city clerk, to O. Phillips, building inspector for the Eagle Rock district.

One petition calls for changing all of Yosemite Drive west of Elwood Drive into Zone "B," allowing the building of apartments, bungalow courts, and duplex dwellings. The section has been in Zone "A."

The other petition calls for the placing of the southeast and southwest corners of Annandale boulevard and Colorado boulevard into Zone "C." This property is owned by the Huntington Land and Improvement Co., and the petition was entered by this company.

The city attorney has been instructed to prepare the necessary amendment to the zoning ordinance to take care of these changes, which have been approved by the planning commission.

Two other teachers have recently been elected to the school staff, Miss Laura Allen of Long Beach, who last year taught at Madero, and Miss Pearl H. Austin of Burbank. Miss Allen will be assigned to one of the third or fourth grades, but Miss Austin has not as yet been placed.

Miss Rhea Nelson, who taught last year, but who did not at first sign her contract, has now done so and will return from her home in Nebraska in time for the opening of the fall term.

Miss Dorothy Melody, who taught last year and was re-elected, has resigned in order that she may live with her mother in Los Angeles, it being one of the requirements of the local board that all teachers reside in Burbank.

Shrine Club Outing
The first annual outing of the Burbank Shrine club will be held at Seminole Springs Sunday afternoon and night, July 13th.

Seminole Springs is reached by driving out Ventura highway to the Malibu country club road beyond Calabasas, then turning up this road to the left and following it past the club house to the springs. It is about thirty-five miles from Burbank.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL WILL HAVE ANNEX

$30,000 Building Planned to Care for Increasing
Enrollment

VAN NUYS, July 12.—This community is to have a $30,000 annex to the grammar school, funds for the same coming out of the bonds voted at the Los Angeles election of June 3.

The architect for the local building is H. F. Withey, and although no formal detail has been made public, it is felt that the new structure will provide a new north wing on the campus which will furnish adequate housing facilities for the ever increasing enrollment in the Van Nuys schools.

At the present time a one-story annex is located on the south side of the grounds and it is thought that additional money will be forthcoming in the near future to add the number of classrooms. The present buildings at the grammar school represent an expenditure of more than $100,000, not including equipment, and this additional $30,000 structure will go far in keeping pace with the growth here.

New Buildings
The addition of the new $50,000 gymnasium and the $6000 shop building at Van Nuys High school were the outstanding highlights of this institution last year, and it is believed that the next few months will note an appropriation by the board for a domestic science building and other structures that are needed there.

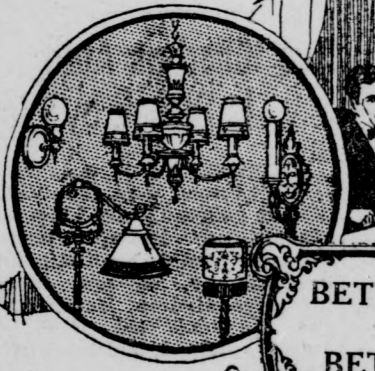

The Spanish-American Mission workers, aided by a number of others interested in the welfare of the Van Nuys Mexican colony, held a bazaar and fiesta beginning at 11:30 o'clock this morning and continuing through the day and evening. This affair is being held in the two vacant sections of the Holloway building on West Sylvan street, and combines many attractive features.

This will be one of a series of weekly dances to be held during the summer. The club has adopted this means of raising money to pay the balance due on the clubhouse recently finished.

The first dance held this season in the Garden of the Moon netted the club $29, and a penny collection added $37.50 more to the fund. The club plans to buy chairs for the clubhouse soon, and will use part of the money for this purpose.

There has been an increase in automobile buying throughout the state since July 1, purchasers having waited to take advantage of the half yearly license rate which was effective on that date.

BOY SCOUTS ARE BACK FROM CAMP

Members of Verdugo Hills Council Enjoy Stay at Catalina Island

Harvey R. Cheesman, Glendale Boy Scout executive, arrived home last night from Catalina Island, after completing details closing the island camp at Johnson's Harbor, enjoyed this summer by seventy-five Scouts of the Verdugo Hills council. As executive of the council Mr. Cheesman states that the camp was one of the most enjoyable and successful camps he has ever participated in during his Scouting experience.

The first period of the camp was from June 24 to July 2 and was participated in by seventy-three boys. The second period from July 2 to 10 had seventy-five boys in camp.

Johnson's Harbor is sixteen miles from Avalon and the camp site is ideally located with three huge fig trees, which not only furnished all the fruit the boys could eat, but also wonderful shade for the commissary.

Chefs Cook Meals
Wholesome meals, prepared by two negro chefs and served three times a day, were features of the camp program.

Each camp period was divided into camp troops of twenty-five boys each. Aiding Mr. Cheesman in the camp administration was Homer Reed, Eagle Scout of Troop 5, Glendale.

Scoutmasters of the camp troops were: Camp Troop 1, Don Taylor, assisted by John Curry and Morris Crawford, tent leaders; Camp Troop 2, Floyd Craft, assisted by Charles Bosserman and Albert Beach; Camp Troop 3, Howard Richardson, assisted by Harry Walser and William Thompson.

During the first period, Dave Chandler served as quartermaster, having charge of the camp store, where each boy was allowed to spend only fifteen cents each day. Robert Ayars was quartermaster of the second period.

Merit System
Activities of the camp were based on merit points. Inspection was held at 9 o'clock every morning and the tent judged the best was given the honor flag for that day. From this honor tent an honor Scout was picked, the boy being chosen honor scout the most times was declared honor scout of the camp. Glenn Martin of Troop 5, Glendale, received this honor during the first camp period, and Donald Taylor of Troop 2, Eagle Rock, for the second period. Each boy was presented with a gold-plated flashlight.

Competition was keen among the boys in the various Scout tests. Solomon Klein of Troop 5, Glendale, won first place during the first period, and Charles Meech, Troop 1, Glendale, first in the second camp period. Each one was presented with a baseball mit.

CHANGE DATE FOR MEET ON SCHOOL

Northwestern Avenue Body Plan Open Air Session Next Thursday

The meeting of the Northwestern Avenue Improvement association, originally scheduled for July 15, has been postponed until July 17, according to an announcement made today by I. J. Hoover, president of the association. The meeting will be held at Lake and Western avenues, and will be an open-air meeting, with plenty of seats provided for all who attend. Mr. Hoover said.

The meeting was postponed at the suggestion of Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools. Mr. Hoover said, inasmuch as Mr. White is to be one of the principal speakers and could not attend on July 15, due to a meeting of one of the Board of Education committees, Mr. White will address the members of the association on the city's schools and the need for expansion.

Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production, will also speak at the meeting, Mr. Hoover said. His address will be about the power and light situation in Glendale, and reference to needed improvements in the way of reservoirs for the water system will be made.

The Northwestern Improvement association was recently formed, and only three meetings have been held. The meeting on July 17, which will start at 8 o'clock, will be the first big meeting attempted by the organization. Music will be provided, Mr. Hoover said.

Milk bottles with holes in the bottom to permit draining of the milk and thus leaving the cream, have been designed.

More than 150,000 railroad ties were shipped from this country in one month recently.

hunts, swimming and other activities filled each day. In the evening a big campfire was held and entertainment included yells, songs, games, stories and reading of the camp newspaper. Irvin Gross served as editor for the first period of the camp and Lyman Bosserman for the second period. Adult leaders assisting Mr. Cheesman were Deputy Scout Commissioner Louis Wilson, Glendale; Deputy Scout Commissioner McNary, Eagle Rock; and Scoutmasters Taylor and Speck, Glendale.

One of the big events of camp was when a group of the Verdugo Hills Council officers came to the island in a private yacht to visit camp. The party included R. L. Kent, A. R. Eastman, Peter L. Ferry, Mayor Spencer Robinson and C. H. Temple. W. T. Vickery also visited camp and remained over one night.

During the remainder of the summer the various troops will enjoy camping outings.

BOSTON, Mass., July 12.—The Draper Manufacturing company, making textile machinery, is on a five day a week basis while the Sanford Textile Mills of Maine have reduced schedules to three days a week after running full time for two years. The Amoskeag Mills also are on a 3-day basis.

Furnish Church Music

The Harmony Male Quartet, composed of EDWARD HAMM, first tenor; HENRY FOTH, second tenor; JOHN RICHERT, first bass; HERBERT RICHERT, second bass, are appearing at the Sunday services in the Glendale Presbyterian church.

The splendid musical programs at the Sunday services of the Glendale Presbyterian church have been greatly enhanced by the addition of the Harmony Male quartette, Edward Hamm, first tenor, Henry Foth, second tenor, John Richert, first bass, and Herbert Richert, second bass.

As an organization the quartette has been together for seven consecutive years and critics are unanimous in their opinion that no church in the southland has such a combination of melodious voices. In point of quality, balance of parts, blending, shading and intelligence of interpretation, they are conceded to rank with the best male quartettes before the public today.

They are all graduates of Taft college and following their unprecedented popularity at this institution they filled many engagements with the leading Chautauqua and Lyceum bureaus of America.

In addition to church work they are filling engagements on the concert platform and on every occasion have been greeted with unstinted praise for their wonderful harmony.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, in conjunction with the music committee which comprises Howard L. Brown, chairman, and H. J. Lawrence, is endeavoring to make the Sunday musical program sufficiently attractive to fill the large edifice to overflowing at every service. The public is cordially invited to hear the music and judge for itself.

SWITCH POWER TO SOUTHLAND AREAS

Five Companies Will Divert Surplus Electricity to Edison Lines

In an effort to bring relief during the light and power shortage, the five major light and power companies of the state will unite to furnish electrical energy to Southern California. The members of the State Railroad commission have instructed the various companies to make the necessary connections, and all surplus power is to go to the Southland.

The San Joaquin Light & Power company, with headquarters in Fresno, will supply extra power for Los Angeles and Southern California points, under the instructions of the State Railroad commission.

Excess power in the sections served by the Pacific Gas & Electric company and the Great Western Power company, will also be brought to Southern California, indirectly, for the commission has ordered this excess diverted to the lines of the Coast Valleys Gas & Electric company, which, in turn, will send it over the lines of the San Joaquin Light & Power company, and thence the final distribution will be made over the lines of the Southern California Edison company.

This arrangement, it was explained by the city officials today, does not lessen the need of conservation in Glendale, as most of the power to be brought in from the northland will be utilized in keeping the southland's industries running as near full blast as possible.

Heads Board

DR. J. K. GILKERSON, Glendale, has been elected president of the newly appointed Board of Chiropractor Examiners.

The new Board of Chiropractor Examiners, appointed by Governor Richardson on Thursday, July 10, met yesterday in the Pacific Finance building, Los Angeles, and organized, electing Dr. J. K. Gilkerson, 111 East Broadway, Glendale, as president. The other members of the board are Dr. Tate of Berkeley, vice president; Dr. James Compton, Oakland, secretary; Dr. Henry D. McFarland, Los Angeles, and Dr. W. N. Clayton, San Francisco.

The former board of examiners was ousted on a technical point on the ground that those members who were appointed after the passage of the act permitting chiropractors to practice in California had not been licensed under the existing law, which did not recognize chiropractors.

Dr. Gilkerson, the president of the new board, has been active in every campaign for the past twelve years to secure recognition for the chiropractors, and it was largely due to his efforts that the present law was placed on the books of the state.

The licenses issued by the old board, Dr. Gilkerson states, will be regarded as valid by the state authorities.

Many Roads Closed
The organization which was created last night, had its inception with the fire committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The first meeting with a view to organizing a Glendale unit of the association was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms some two weeks ago. The Angeles Forest Protective association reaches from San Bernardino to Hollywood, embracing the entire range of mountains that runs up and down the coast, in whose canyons are many of the state's most picturesque resorts.

Roads into the mountains are being closed, except those leading to resorts. Mr. Hayselden states, and autoists entering agree to fight fire if necessary. Every male occupant of a motor car is given a shovel by forest rangers, in case of emergency. The situation is known to be extremely grave.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

The hour that is gone I cannot recall, but tomorrow I will do better than yesterday; and all tomorrows shall be better than the yesterdays. Let us "leave behind our low-vaulted past."—William Dyer.

REMARKABLE POLITICAL PROPHECY

David Lawrence, who is considered one of the best informed political writers in the United States, and whose articles are a feature of The Glendale Evening News, made a most remarkable prophecy in reference to the nomination of John W. Davis by the Democratic convention, a prophecy which ranks with his accurate prediction made of the outcome of the 1916 election.

Just a year ago—July 10, 1923—when President Harding was still alive and the discussion of Democratic candidates was beginning, David Lawrence wrote the following:

"John W. Davis, of West Virginia, is one of the most brilliant men ever suggested for the Presidency of the United States. In intellectual attainment, oratorical ability, legal achievement, and international background he has few equals in America today. . . . Mr. Davis' chances of nomination lie particularly in 1924, as they did in 1920, in the possibility of a deadlock. He is the type of candidate to whom the party beset by extremes might turn as a compromise."

Before the convention began balloting, David Lawrence wrote on June 28 the following:

"The McAdoo men will never go to Smith. The Smith men will never go to McAdoo. . . . Just now John W. Davis has more second choice strength than any man in the convention. And that's why—assuming that neither McAdoo nor Smith can be nominated—he can be looked upon to emerge as the beneficiary of both."

June 30—"The talk of a compromise nominee begins to gain ground among the delegates who feel that the Klan issue has made unavailable the principal contenders on both sides. John W. Davis is looming up as the most likely compromise."

July 1—"The chances of a victory for Davis appear brightest at the moment, as he has a strong following in both the McAdoo and Smith camps. . . . Here and there are scattered votes for Davis, but his biggest opportunity lies in the fact that he is second choice of scores of delegates and is looked upon as a logical compromise."

"The Smith managers are more or less under obligation to Underwood and may give him some of their votes in the hope of giving him a chance before the convention, but the Southern McAdoo states are not inclined to help Underwood because of his connection with the recent Klan controversy, so Underwood is not yet a probability."

July 2—"The consensus of opinion continues to be that neither McAdoo nor Smith, even if they gain a hundred votes more, can get a majority, much less a two-thirds vote."

July 9—When McAdoo released his delegates, David Lawrence promptly wrote that the nomination of John W. Davis was assured.

All of the foregoing was not a guess. It was based upon logic and matured analysis of American politics. It was also a piece of skillful reporting, for the discovery of the sources of John W. Davis' strength among the delegates enabled David Lawrence to state positively that the West Virginian would be the ultimate nominee.

CITY PLANNING

Every city of any consequence has a City Planning Commission. Such a body is very necessary and is all-important in civic development. But, the unfortunate part of it is, that a city usually attains quite a size before a Planning Commission is appointed. Most cities have grown from villages and their growth is more or less haphazard until they reach a certain stage. Then it is too late, or too expensive, to remedy some of the more unfortunate features such as narrow streets, unsightly buildings, lack of zoning and building restrictions and no provision for parks.

It is a pity that more cities could not be planned in advance as is the case at Palos Verdes, the city that is building on the hills overlooking the Pacific, just below Redondo Beach. Palos Verdes was planned in the minutest detail before any work was done on the project. Wide streets were provided for, industrial, business, residence and apartment-house districts clearly defined, and abundant provision made for parks and parkways. Only certain classes of buildings and certain types of architecture may be built in designated districts. No building may be erected unless the design is approved by the art commission. Nurseries on the estates are providing trees and shrubbery for parks and parkways.

The men who have planned Palos Verdes have had wide experience in this kind of work in the larger cities of the country. Many homes are being built at Palos Verdes now, and architects, subdividers and city planners all over the United States are watching this city with interest.

COURTESY IN A CROWD

Foreigners are always looking for something to criticize when they visit this country, and when a French woman recently said we are lacking in courtesy she had some grounds for the charge. We may know all about etiquette and practice it in our homes and in the homes of our friends, but when we get out in the street among other people we forget the little niceties of social intercourse.

Did you ever stand in line waiting for some service, where each was expected to take his turn, that some one did not try to crowd ahead? Women are the worst offenders in this regard. Sometimes they have a disarming smile and the excuse that they are in a hurry. Those who are quietly waiting their turn are never in a hurry. And sometimes this woman, or man, is just plain rude in the way he elbows his way to the front.

The pushing and the scramble, to be the first to get aboard and get the best seats, that sometimes takes place when a number of people are boarding a car would be more fitting in a drove of cattle.

Whenever there is a crowd there is an effort to get the best of everything for ourselves. Little thought is given to courtesy, to giving others the first choice and the first chance. We push ahead even when there is no advantage in getting ahead. People seem to lose some of their human instincts when they get in a crowd. Courtesy under such circumstances is very rare.

Some women are the kind of housekeepers who would, if they were in charge of heaven, complain if someone tracked in some dust from the golden stair.

Scientists say there is no life on the moon. Perhaps the moonshine has killed them all.

Zero in wives is the one who tries to open the sardine can with a corkscrew.

NOT EXACTLY A SURPRISE, BUT—

Crime Is a Disease

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A striking case of kleptomania occurred in Chicago recently. The wife of a millionaire was arrested for stealing.

She lived in a palatial home, and had maids and butlers and other servants to wait upon her. She had no need for money, as her husband willingly supplied all she could reasonably spend, even for luxuries.

But a strange impulse obsessed her. She applied for a position as a maid in a strange house, and was accepted because of her refined appearance. This she did at several places. In each instance she looted the home during the absence of the family and carried the things away in her own automobile. A neighbor woman saw the maid going away with the sedan full of plunder and notified her employer. The kleptomaniac was arrested and at police headquarters she broke down and confessed.

The woman was forty-four years old and had four children of her own.

The husband, although dazed by the shock of seeing his wife a kleptomaniac, hurried to her side and declared that he would stand by her.

This incident is full of instruction for those who are capable of learning. It emphasizes the truth that crime is a disease to be cured and not an act which calls for retribution.

In such a case we already acknowledge its pathological character by giving it a medical name—kleptomania. We are recognizing that it is a mental disorder, something to be healed.

In former ages anyone who stole would have been seized and afflicted more or less cruelly.

Little by little the world is learning that vengeance, punishment and retaliation cure nothing. Kerosene will not put out a fire.

This unfortunate woman, surrounded by the protection of her husband and her loyal friends, will probably be treated by scientific means in a hospital or elsewhere until her affliction is removed.

She is not only unfortunate, but also very fortunate, for there are thousands of other lawbreakers who have no such friends, who are seized upon by the agents of society, haled into court, thrown into prison and treated with every form of harshness as enemies to be punished, and not as cripples to be cured.

Some day or other we are going to get the normal, sane and healthy view in regard to all crime.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

When I hear people say that the eighteenth amendment is responsible for widespread crime and growing laxity in the manners and morals of the young; that liquor regulations are unenforceable and breed lawlessness; that the Volstead law does not reflect sentiment; and that it interferes with personal liberty; I have to laugh.

The old wet crowd are making a brave stand but prohibition is the will of the majority of the people, it is NOT breeding crime and it CAN and WILL be enforced.

There is a great hue and cry about moral laxity in the United States, and the charge that our youth is demoralized, that we are inferior to the rest of mankind in the things that matter, is oft repeated. And prohibition is to blame.

In the first place it is very easy to say that the American people are more lawless than ever before, that our youth is more depraved, that social conditions here do not compare favorably with those of other countries but David F. Houston, member of President Wilson's cabinet, in Harper's Magazine for June proves very conclusively that this country is not on the road to perdition, that we are not inferior to other countries. He preaches the gospel of optimism and presents facts to prove his contention that we are not growing worse as some would have us believe. So prohibition can not be responsible for a condition that does not exist.

Some people suggest the repeal of the Volstead act as a remedy for lawlessness and such puerile logic amuses me. Why not repeal all laws and do away with all lawlessness?

The man who rides to work with me every morning continually harps on the subject of the unfairness of prohibition and its failure to stop drinking. At first I tried to argue with him but I long since gave that up. He can't see anything beyond the point that his liquor has been taken from him. It is some fellows like him and some who made big money in the liquor traffic who are doing this yelling about prohibition breeding lawlessness, and so on. On the other hand thousands of people who conscientiously fought prohibition are fair enough now to acknowledge that they were wrong and now insist upon the enforcement of the Volstead law.

I look at the matter this way. Let these old soaks rave on. It is only a matter of a few years until they will all be dead. Then the old U. S. A. can start with a clean slate; then the man who operates a still, the bootlegger and the booter will be in the same class with the porch-climber, the bandit and the burglar.

BEAUTY EXPERT BOBS LONG HAIR

Sacrifice of Flowing Locks Brings Freedom From Pins and Papers

Despite the fact that there are many who have not yet condoned the idea of bobbed hair, Irene Marten, located at 715 1/2 South Brand boulevard, a beauty specialist and authority on beauty culture, and who is known from coast to coast for her long and beautiful mass of chestnut brown hair which she accumulated through her own system of hair growing, says that "bob is here to stay."

Mrs. Marten has recently sacrificed her own beautiful flowing locks for the Marten bob and states with confidence that when women get a foretaste of the freedom and comfort which the bobbed hair provides they will never be willing to return to the old method of hairdressing with piercing hair pins and, worst of all—curl papers—which, no doubt have been the cause of many good men leaving home, being repelled by the sight which the usage of curl papers must of necessity present—think of a sensitive man carrying such an image to his work every day.

In addition to all classes of beauty work Mrs. Marten makes a specialty of hair growing, and her vegetable oil shampoo, like herself, is known from coast to coast.

Yacht Club Flagship Wrecked by Explosion

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich., July 12.—The palatial yacht Mervyn, brand-new flagship of the Chicago Yacht club, was wrecked by an explosion of undetermined origin aboard her as she lay off the harbor here.

Dr. Wilhelm L. Baum, her owner, commodore of the club, his wife and a party of friends and the whole crew were aboard when the blast occurred and the boat burst into flames. All were reported rescued.

Origin of the blue fox on the Alaskan islands is traced either to the Pribilofs or the animals brought from Siberia by the Russian.

Horoscope

This should be a very fortunate day, according to astrology. Venus, Mars and Jupiter are all in benefic aspect.

Women come under a specially lucky direction of the stars making for great ability in undertaking large tasks.

Men will need the aid and co-operation of women in all political activities as never before, owing to the growth of power among national organizations.

Happy years probably will follow weddings which take place today, for constancy, prosperity and long life are promised by the planets.

Greater interest in the theatre than ever before is to be manifested during the remainder of the year, but with the production of many plays will be little growth of the art of acting, the seers prophesy.

Mars in friendly sway promises much constructive work in preparing for winter's tasks. Education, sanitation and good government are to be strongly stressed.

There is a sign interpreted as presaging the rise to fame of an orator who tells unpleasant truths to the American people.

Surprises in the result of the presidential election are foretold. The death of a prominent man may have an unforeseen effect upon the public mind.

There is again a warning sign for the Prince of Wales who may suffer another accident or severe illness.

The conjunction of Mars and Uranus, November 27, which falls on the cusp of the ninth house at London denotes serious religious troubles, sacrifice and blasphemy.

Prejudices will be fanned to flame in the United States during the next few weeks and again riots and disturbances of various sorts are foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is have a happy outlook for the year. Those who are employed probably will be promoted or will receive increased salaries.

Children born on this day are likely to be extraordinarily keen of mind and reliable in character. These subjects of Cancer are generally successful in whatever they undertake. Romantic courtships for girls are indicated.

Today's Poem

LOST LOVE
Who wins his Love shall lose her,
Who loses her shall gain,
For still the spirit woos her,
A soul without a stain!
And memory still pursues her
With longings not in vain!

He loses her who gains her,
Who watches day by day
The dust that custom stains her.
The griefs that leave her gray,
The flesh that yet enchains her
Whose grace hath passed away!

Oh, happier he who gains not
The Love whom seem to gain;
The joy that custom stains not,
Shall still with him remain
The loveliness that wanes not,
The Love that ne'er can wane.

In dreams she grows not older
The lais of Dream among
Though all the world wax colder,
Though all the songs be sung,
In dreams doth he behold her
Still fair and kind and young.
—Andrew Lang.

HORRORS!

The scene is Piccadilly, London.
A gentleman walking. A man follows him for several blocks and finally accosts him.

"Will you give me a shilling?"
Gentleman does not reply and continues walk.

"Will you give me a shilling?"
The beggar repeats.

Gentleman does not appear to have heard.

"So you do not wish to give me one shilling?"
Still no response.

"If you refuse me a shilling, I shall be obliged to do something which I never in my life imagined I would ever do."

Gentleman stops, gives the shilling. "What would you have done if I had not given it to you?" he asks curiously.

"I should have gone to work."

DEVELOPMENT SECTION

INDUSTRY • BUILDING • SUBDIVISION • REAL ESTATE

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, JULY 12, 1924

GLENDALE PROUD OF ITS BUILDING RECORD!

The building record of Glendale for June, 1924, published in detail in yesterday's Glendale Evening News, is something of which not only this city but the entire state may well be proud. In the face of an admitted general falling off, permits totaling $1,000,785 were issued from the office of H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent, according to official figures. This is a gain of 11 per cent over the $900,051 in permits issued in June, 1923—the greatest gain for that period recorded by any city in California, as shown by the current S. W. Straus & Company survey. During the same period Los Angeles fell off 31 per cent, Long Beach fell off 55 per cent and other cities suffered marked declines. The only city in the state that approached Glendale's record was San Diego, with a 9 per cent gain. A record like this is not only good for domestic consumption but furnishes national publicity that money could not buy. Throughout the country that record will be seen and discussed. Thousands will marvel that Glendale should continue unabated the tremendous building activities that in 1923 caused over $10,000,000 in permits to be issued. There must be something back of such insistent activity, they will rightly argue. Just what is back of Glendale? All dull statistics aside, the answer is quite simple. It is a better place to live, better than cities elsewhere in the United States and better even than other cities in California. Glendaleans have come to realize after living here. Location, climate, beauty, prosperity—those things are back of Glendale. They combine to spell contentment. Few people who come to Glendale ever leave. But satisfaction should not be allowed to become self-satisfaction. Glendale is a good city and a big city, but it will be a better city and a bigger city if every resident will do just two things: First, learn all the facts and get sold on Glendale; and second, tell others the facts and sell them Glendale.

WIRE FENCE ENCLOSURES PLANT

Bentley Lumber Co. Improves Yard; Helps Builders To Design Homes

By D. R. GILLIN
Service Mgr., Bentley Lumber Co.
The largest and most modern building material merchants in Glendale have scored another elaborate advancement by the erection of a new fence which now encloses the entire three and a half acres. The fence is the woven wire and wood post construction, whose brightly painted colors give an ornamentation to the whole vicinity.

This company has also installed new and attractive advertising signs on the roof of a new and modern warehouse as also at other advantageous positions around the yard.

Service Department
Building a new home is one of the greatest adventures in life whether it is an imposing mansion or a modern little bungalow. Realizing the great necessity for home builders to have a modern information bureau and plan service, Bentley Lumber company maintains a special department, whose duties are to help the home builder. There is free building information, hundreds of plans to inspect, built-in features; in fact, everything in suggestions for home builders is at the disposal of the public.

The construction of a new home should be achieved in the spirit of performing a great adventure, with every step planned and every conceivable crisis anticipated. Just as the many brave men and women who go into the jungles to secure museum groups of wild animals plan for their great adventure. No big game hunter goes into the jungles today without supplies to take care of every possible eventualities—illness, accident, hunger, and even the preservation of the big skins which he expects to get.

Aid Home Builders
Too many home builders start their great adventure without the proper supplies of building knowledge, without the complete plans and specifications of their anticipated home. However, Bentley Lumber company is trying to help the home builder to provide against the unforeseen emergencies. By calling at its offices home builders may obtain free building information, inspect hundreds of modern plans designed by high-class architects. There is a home for every pocketbook, and there is no charge to customers for complete plans and specifications selected from the service.

Change In Revenue Stamp Rules Told By Tax Collector

Under a ruling received today by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, a revenue stamp will not be required on each instrument executed under a general power of attorney granted to a person not an officer of a corporation. The ruling provides that where a board of directors of a corporation has granted a general power of attorney for the purpose of making conveyances, acknowledging deeds and transacting other business of the corporation, to a person not already officially vested with such authority, the tax imposed by Schedule A-11 of the Revenue Act of 1924, does not apply to an instrument executed under the general power of attorney, even though the instrument may contain a copy of the general power.

PLENTY OF CARS FOR STATE CROPS

Fear of Shortage at Harvest Time Unfounded, Claim Of Big Interests

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—California will have no car shortage this year when the peak of the fruit and grain movement is reached, is the belief of representative shippers who met and formed a shippers' regional advisory board.

"Everything looks promising for the speedy movement of all crops this year," said Fred P. Gregson, Los Angeles shipper. "There are plenty of cars available for any emergency this year."

In an effort to establish better contacts between shippers and the railroads so that transportation needs can be anticipated and better service given more than 200 shippers from California, Nevada, Arizona and western New Mexico participated in organization of the shippers' regional advisory board, the eleventh in the United States.

Urges Co-operation
Donald C. Conn, manager of the public relations section of the car service division of the American Railways, presided. Conn, in his opening address, stressed the need for more co-operation between individuals and the railroads so that when the need arose, as during the harvesting of California fruit crops, adequate car service could be given.

OCCUPATION TAXES DUE IN JULY

Collector Explains Ruling Of New Revenue Act To Business Men

More than fifteen thousand Southern California business men engaged in many lines of business and occupations are subject to special taxes under the new revenue act which must be paid before July 31.

In a warning given today Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell said that heavy penalties were provided for failure to file a return and pay the tax on time and for the filing of a false or fraudulent return.

"I do not wish to make a record for collecting penalties. My desire is to protect the taxpayer," said the collector, in outlining the businesses and occupations liable to the special taxes under the new law, and urging prompt payment.

Brokers Liable
Brokers, except brokers exclusively negotiating purchases or sales of produce or merchandise, are required to pay a tax of $50. In addition, a secondary tax is imposed upon brokers who are members of a stock exchange, produce exchange, board of trade or similar organization where produce or merchandise is sold as follows:

If the average value during the preceding year ended June 30 of a seat or membership on such exchange was $2,000 or more but not more than $5,000 a tax of $100; if more than $5,000 but not more than $10,000 a tax of $150; if more than $10,000 a tax of $250.

Other occupational taxes are as follows: Pawnbrokers, $100; ship brokers, $50; customhouse brokers, $50; proprietors of bowling alleys and billiard rooms, $10 for each alley or table; proprietors of shooting galleries, $20; proprietors of riding academies, $100; brewers and distillers, $1,000. Persons operating or renting passenger automobiles for hire are required to pay $10 for each such automobile having a seating capacity of more than two and not more than seven and $20 for each such automobile having a seating capacity of more than seven. The new revenue act provides that tax shall not be collected in respect of automobiles used exclusively for conveying school children to and from school.

Taxes Repealed
The special occupational taxes heretofore imposed on proprietors of theatres, museums and concert halls, circuses and other public exhibitions have been repealed effective on and after June 30, 1924.

Special taxes must be paid by stamps denoting the tax. Persons engaged in any business who are subject to a special tax are required to keep posted conspicuously in their establishments the stamps denoting the payment of the tax. Failure to do so incurs a penalty.

Steel Buyers Readier To Purchase Stocks

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 12.—Perhaps the most encouraging sign in the steel trade is the lessening reluctance of buyers to take on stocks. Mills are not expecting consumers to pitch in and buy heavily for even they do not believe conditions warrant it. One steel official said today the price movement is as likely to be one way as another and only close scrutiny of the market can enable buyers to prepare for what is coming.

The price situation to date shows no definite change. Reports for quotations less than $21 on Bessemer were not borne out at Pittsburgh mills, which continue to quote 2.15 cents on bars, shapes and plates, $2.90 per keg on nails, $2.65 on plain wire and $5.50 a box on tinplate. Can companies are said to have specified about 60 per cent of their wants for the third quarter on tinplate.

Pasadena Realtors Planning Program Of Entertainment

The entertainment committee of the Pasadena Realty board, of which J. W. Casey is the chairman, is planning an extensive and varied program for those who attend the twentieth annual convention of the California Real Estate association, October 8, 9, 10 and 11.

The visiting delegates will be shown the admirable features of Pasadena, special emphasis being placed upon the small homes in the vicinity. Trips to the motion picture studios of Hollywood and to Catalina are being negotiated.

A distinctive badge is planned for all visitors by Chairman A. H. McDuffie, of the Badges and Souvenirs committee, while the publicity committee, under the leadership of Virgil J. Norris, proposes publishing a souvenir booklet of the occasion.

PROSPERITY SEEN IN STAMP SALES

Documentary Tax Indicates Sound Business Here In Real Estate

Sales of documentary stamps and receipts from the tax on telephone and telegraph messages, two of the most reliable of the internal revenue bureau's business barometers for the fiscal year which ended June 30, indicate more than active business conditions in southern California, according to a report sent to Washington by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

Sales of documentary stamps, which are used on real estate transfers and other business transactions were $1,427,776, compared with $1,161,475 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, an increase of 23 per cent.

COURT BARS MISUSE OF 'REALTOR'

Virginia Broker Is Enjoined In Suit Tried Before Circuit Judge

The California Real Estate association has received the full text of the decree of injunction granted by the Circuit court of the city of Norfolk against a real estate broker who was halted into court by the Norfolk Real Estate & Stock exchange, when he persisted in using the term "Realtor," although not a member of either the local or the national real estate board.

The complaint cited that the term "Realtor" was a coined word originated by a Minneapolis real estate dealer and given to the National Association of Real Estate boards, and that it means that the person, firm or corporation after whose name the term appears is a member of a constituent board of the national association, and it further means that the user of the term is vouched for by the local and national board.

Court's Ruling
The decree of the injunction returned in the circuit court says in part:

"The court is of the opinion that the use of the word 'Realtor' by the defendant is of such a character as to mislead and deceive the public and to cause them to think that the place of business of such a person is that of a member of a constituent member of the National Association of Real Estate boards and so deprive them of the protection afforded by actual membership in such a board and consequent liability to discipline for improper conduct."

Illinois Decision
California having the largest membership of any state in the National Association of Real Estate boards will be interested in knowing that this decision follows closely the decision made by the Illinois State Department of Education and Registration denying a license to a real estate firm that had persistently used the term "Realtor" without the proper authority for so doing.

REALTY REPORTS PROPERTY SALES

Business Here for Those Who Go After It, Says W. L. Twining

"There is plenty of business today for the real estate dealer, but he won't get it by sitting still and waiting for it to drop into his lap," is the way W. L. Twining, of Twining & Myers, realtors, 108 West Broadway, sums up the present situation.

During the past week Twining & Myers have sold a house on Camulos avenue, in Verdugo Woodlands; three lots on Sylvan Lane in Woodland park; one lot on Canada boulevard and two lots in Burton Heights, one of their subdivisions.

"It is worth noting," says Mr. Twining, "that every one of these pieces of property was bought for a home. The speculative or investment angle did not enter into a single one of these sales." Twining & Myers are planning to launch a new subdivision of fifty-seven acres in the La Crescenta district as soon as they judge the time to be opportune, which, they believe, will be very shortly now.

Employment Falls Off In Plants at Detroit

DETROIT, July 12.—Industrial employment here last week fell off 5207 to a total of 196,494. This compares with 222,000 a year ago and is 45,000 off from this year's high. The decrease is attributed to the closing for inventory of several plants. More are expected to close for the same purpose in the next two weeks.

Bank Deposits Show Growth In Northwest

MINNEAPOLIS, July 12.—The betterment of conditions in the northwest is indicated here by an increase of $7,500,000 in demand deposits in the district banks in the last six weeks and a decrease of $5,000,000 in loans.

New Home of Karl Gardner In Glendale Heights Tract Will Be Shown To Visitors

Another house, designed and built by a Glendale contractor, J. B. Folkenberg of 1439 Stanley avenue, will be opened for public inspection tomorrow, and all those interested are invited to visit the residence of Karl L. Gardner in Glendale Heights any time between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. when they will be conducted through the newly completed residence by the contractor.

The beautiful ten-room house is situated well up on the hillside in the Glendale Heights tract and the rooms have been so planned that each makes the most of the wonderful view obtainable from this location. From the front porch or any of the front rooms one can look out over the city of Glendale as far north as Burbank and obtain an impressive view of Mt. Lowe and Mt. Wilson.

It occupies a large lot with a fifty-foot frontage and extending through the block to the drive on the rear, 176 feet on one side and 212 feet on the other. Landscaping possibilities on this piece of property are unlimited, according to the contractor. The garage is situated on the rear of the lot and opens directly on to the drive.

The house is a cream colored stucco trimmed in brown, and the porches are in rose colored cement. Wrought iron railings along the steps and around the porches add to the beauty. Besides the two main lower floors, there is a third floor that contains two bedrooms which are made delightfully light and airy by the windows on three sides.

The ten rooms include a large living room, dining room, breakfast room, kitchen, four bedrooms, tiled bathroom, two other lavatories, one of which is situated on the lower floor, together with the laundry room, billiard room and fruit room. The arrangement is such that it affords maximum convenience for the large size.

Directions Given
For Reaching New Model Residence

The new Gardner home is situated in the Glendale Heights tract and can be reached by either driving out Palmer avenue or down Adams street. To reach the residence, drive into the tract on Adams street and follow it about half way up the grade, then turn to the right on Wellesley Drive.

The house should be easily recognized from the picture printed on this page. The roads to the tract have all been paved and the motorist should experience no difficulty in reaching the property. The house can be approached from the rear if so desired.

Many new and unusual features are incorporated in this new home and nothing but the best of materials and workmanship have entered into the construction of the residence. Mr. Gardner feels that he can be justly proud of the splendid edifice that has resulted.

One of the beautiful and striking features is the finish on the living and dining room ceilings, which are embossed in gold and silver on a cream background. The decorative work throughout is of the highest quality and represents careful workmanship.

Not the least of the many conveniences is the laundry chute leading from the built-in dresser in the bath room to a convenient location near the laundry room on the lower floor. The house is heated by a unit furnace system electrically controlled from all floors.

The four large cement porches and one small cement rear porch add beauty as well as convenience and comfort to the place. Large windows and doors insure plenty of light and air for all the rooms in the house.

Mr. Folkenberg will be at the residence from 9 a. m. Sunday morning until 6 p. m. in the evening to personally conduct visitors through the house and explain the many novel features that have been incorporated in its construction. The house is located at 1411 Wellesley Drive.

DELEGATES VOTE FOR LINEBERGER

Ninth District Meet Gives Congressman Approval For Another Term

Major Walter F. Lineberger of Long Beach, representative in Congress from the Ninth Congressional district, was endorsed as a Republican candidate in the August primary, by 352 delegates of the district gathered in the assembly room of the Hotel Green in Pasadena yesterday.

Major Lineberger's endorsement was unanimous and brought to a close a meeting marked by brilliant oratory stirred by a veiled attack on Major Lineberger in the form of an anonymous letter circulated among the delegates.

Robert C. Avery of Long Beach, a delegate from the southern assembly district, placed the name of Major Lineberger in nomination, after John Robert White, Jr., of Glendale, chairman of the sixty-first assembly district delegation, announced the sixty-first would yield to the seventh district.

Offer Endorsement. C. K. McCormick of 1913 Preston avenue, Los Angeles, a delegate from the sixty-first assembly district, seconded the nomination. As each district was called upon by Judge Joseph A. Allard, of Pomona, permanent chairman, the spokesman for each assembly district added his endorsement to the nomination.

Mr. Avery, in nominating Major Lineberger, said: "There is a spirit of unrest throughout the country today. It is the same kind of spirit of unrest as is often expressed in corporations or in communities. People do not know what they want."

The mental gymnastics at the famous "garden" party recently completed in New York, and called a Democratic convention, clearly shows this.

Called Garden Party. "That Democratic convention, that garden party, if you please, will go down in history as one of the greatest examples of disloyalty of any group or body of men and women to their party and to the nation."

"The nation has a great man in the White House," said Mr. McCormick, "a man who searches out men who stand firm in their convictions and have the courage to state their beliefs. He has called in the representative from this district for conference a number of times. He has sought the advice of the representative from this district, and the representative from this district has stood by the side of the president as the chief executive steered the ship of state safely through the storms of adversity and criticism to safety."

Mr. McCormick seconded the nomination, said he had faith in the ability of Major Lineberger. He had been in close touch with the major on a bill for education, he said. Mr. McCormick said he knew Coolidge when he was a young man in New England just as the president is today the nation needs men in Congress to support the president, he said.

Anonymous Letter. Before a ballot could be taken on Major Lineberger's endorsement, R. S. Person, of 212 East California avenue, Glendale, brought up the subject of the anonymous letter and asked that the matter be threshed out on the floor of the conference before a ballot was taken. A number of speeches followed before Charles Day of Pasadena, moved that the nominations be closed and the secretary instructed to cast the ballot needed. The motion carried.

John Robert White, Jr., offered the following motion: "That a committee be appointed by the chairman to notify the nominee of his selection by this conference as the Republican candidate for representative of the Ninth congressional district of California, and to advise him of the platform that was adopted."

The motion carried and chairman Allard named Mr. White, Galen Welch, chairman of the conference committee, and Cadet Taylor, vice chairman. Major Lineberger was notified last night, Mr. White said, a telegram being sent to Washington with instructions to forward it to London, where Major Lineberger is on duty for the shipping board.

Following the appointment of the notification committee, the conference adjourned.

From This District. Delegates present from the Sixty-first assembly district were from Glendale, John Robert White, Jr., Mr. John Robert White, Jr., A. T. Cowan, Mrs. Ella Richardson, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. Annie E. Rattray, Mrs. Marie M. Yeoman, Mrs. O. Greenwalt, Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, J. C. Sherer, George B. Woodberry, Assemblyman Frank Weller, Harold O. Barton, Harry E. White, C. F. Parks, R. S. Person, W. S. Rattray, R. L. McCourt, F. H. Vesper, and T. D. Watson. From Burderson, William Coryell, C. W. Anderson, W. A. Blanchard, Ernest Herrmann and W. P. Coffman. From San Fernando, H. P. Loomis and H. A. Decker. From Lankershim, C. Newell Carns and Earl D. Killian. C. J. McCormick of Los Angeles and Sherrill B. Osborn of Eagle Rock, were also present as delegates of the assembly district.

Ninth Congressional District Republicans Adopt Platform, Endorse Gov. Richardson

Delegates at the Ninth Congressional district conference, held at Hotel Green, in Pasadena yesterday, declared themselves in favor of the budget system, protective tariff, American merchant marine, water conservation, collection of foreign debt, child labor law and endorsed the platform adopted at the Cleveland convention, when the report of the committee on resolutions, read by Judge George E. Waldo of Pasadena, was adopted.

The delegates expressed their sorrow and admiration for the late president and extended their sympathies to President Coolidge in the loss of his son, Calvin, Jr.

Complete Platform. They urged the state legislature to pass a law prohibiting a candidate for a partisan office from running in any primary on any party ballot except the party under which he is registered. They endorsed the administration of Governor Richardson and his budget system. The complete platform follows:

"We, the delegates to the Republican Conference of the Ninth Congressional district of California, again express our respect and affectionate regard for Warren G. Harding, and our admiration for his conduct of the affairs of our country in the trying and difficult times following the war, and condemn the inefficient and reckless mismanagement of the Democratic party."

"1 We commend President Coolidge for his continuance of the policies of President Harding, and we wish to express our heartfelt sympathy for the president and his family in their great affliction and sorrow."

"2 We reaffirm our devotion to the constitution of the United States, and we are unalterably opposed to any amendment thereof limiting the powers of the supreme court, or permitting the executive, legislative or judicial departments of our government to encroach upon the constitutional powers of each other."

"3 We endorse the budget system and the policy of rigid economy adopted and enforced by the Republican administration since 1921 which have reduced: The public expenditures from $5,500,000,000 to about $3,400,000,000 per annum; the yearly tax burden by $1,250,000,000 per annum; and the number of federal employees by more than 100,000; and we commend the firm insistence of President Coolidge upon rigid government economy, and pledge our earnest support to that end."

"4 We reaffirm our belief in an adequate protective tariff to not only protect the citrus, agricultural and industrial products of the state of California, but of all other states in the union, to the end that the American laborer, farmer and fruit grower may receive just return for their efforts."

"5 We are in favor of American merchant marine, owned and operated by Americans, and to receive such government aid as may be necessary to adjust the difference in wages between American and foreign crews, the government to be recompensed by the carrying of American mail, a naval reserve and construction of ships for naval convoys and use in time of war."

"6 We recommend that Congress enact additional necessary laws for the conservation of water supply and natural resources."

"7 We approve the stand of the Republican administration for the collection of the foreign debt upon such equitable terms as have been accepted and approved by Great Britain."

"8 We endorse the administration of Governor Richardson, his budget system and wise economies in the financial affairs of the state, and commend his honest, fearless and progressive administration."

"9 We urge our state legislature to ratify the amendment to the constitution of the United States giving Congress authority to pass laws regulating child labor."

"10 We urge the state legislature to make constitutional reapportionment of this state at its next session."

"11 We recommend that the state legislature enact a law preventing a candidate for a partisan office from running in any primary on any party ballot except that party under which he is registered."

"12 We reaffirm our adherence to the principles and policies of the Republican party; we heartily endorse the platform adopted at the Cleveland convention, and pledge our candidate to its support."

MOTORISTS FACE JAIL SENTENCES

'Cutting in' Is Barred on Mountain Roads by Authorities

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Autoists who indulge in "cutting in" on mountain highways will be confronted with jail sentences henceforth, according to George S. Grant, manager of the touring bureau of the California State Automobile association.

"We propose to secure strict enforcement of the law for correction of this dangerous practice," said Grant. "I have been advised by Judge Griffin of San Mateo that he will impose jail sentences for such violations of the law and a $50 fine for speeding."

Santa Cruz county officers have been instructed to keep a special lookout for motorists who cut in on the Los Gatos-Santa Cruz mountain highway. Several jail sentences already have been administered in that county. Grant advises also that auto drivers hold close to the fifteen mile limit on all mountain roads and refrain from trying to pass any vehicle unless a clear view ahead is obtainable for at least two hundred feet.

Sunday Funerals to Be Banned in Elyria

ELYRIA, O., July 12.—Sunday funerals in Elyria have been placed under a ban by city service director at the request of care takers of local cemeteries who pleaded "after working all week we are entitled to a day off."

The clergy here also is said to have spoken favorably of the "funeral-less Sunday" plan "because Sunday is an especially busy day for the calling."

Exceptions to the edict are made only in the case of death resulting from a contagious disease.

A phonograph-like machine to take telephone calls and give announcements has been invented.

SHAW WOULD DO AWAY WITH POOR

Says That Secret of Wealth Is Rudeness to Injustice; Started Poor

LONDON, July 12.—"The labor party is fighting against an ocean of tyranny and misrepresentation, but it is winning through triumphantly," declares George Bernard Shaw.

"I am a landlord and a capitalist; therefore I can speak without bias and freely."

"It is true that I began as a poor man. Everybody knows that I began as a literary man and literary men are the poorest of the poor."

Dislikes the Poor. "Now I hold shocking opinions on the subject of the poor. I do not like them. I believe they ought to be abolished, and I am going to do my best to abolish the poor."

"It is true that I have a nice little flat, a country house and a couple of motor cars. I do not apologize. They represent a certain degree of comfort which I wish to be extended to all my countrymen, and there is no reason why, when they become as sensible as I am and as rude to injustice as I have always been, they should not have them also."

At a test in which the rocket on a small scale was used, privileged onlookers saw bursts of molten lead scattered far and wide immediately after the rocket burst, giving a grim indication of what rockets on a larger scale would be able to accomplish.

Would Take Century For Real Education

COLUMBUS, O., July 12.—Ohio State University authorities have arrived at the conclusion that a student, even after receiving a bachelor's degree, would have to spend the better part of a century in school to complete the 1193 courses leading to higher degrees.

BIRTHDAY PARTY PROVES SURPRISE

Honor Mrs. Henry Johnston At Luncheon Held to Celebrate Event

Mrs. Henry Johnston of 111 South Everett street, was most happy on her birthday yesterday, for she was the honoree at a delightful surprise luncheon arranged by her niece, Mrs. A. L. Bryant, assisted by Mrs. Johnston's other niece, Mrs. E. U. Emery and Mrs. Johnston's sister, Mrs. W. C. Richardson.

Early Friday morning Mrs. Johnston took Mrs. Johnston to Pasadena to call on old friends from Rockford, Ill. It was upon their return at noon, when Mrs. Johnston unlocked the door of her home that she was happily reminded that it was her birthday, and that she was 73 years "young."

Greeting her was a company of close friends, seated about the table, bright in yellow and white. A large table and several smaller ones were arranged in rare old lianas and artistically arranged to carry out the color scheme, yellow and white. Canning cards marked the places, and in the lit candles were old-fashioned candy hearts and nuts.

Gifts Presented. When the shades were lowered the birthday cake, in yellow and white, with flickering candles, was placed before Mrs. Johnston, who blew out all the candles as she made a wish. Later Mrs. C. W. Ingdole presented Mrs. Johnston with a headed bag, a gift from guests present. Many other gifts and messages were also received.

During the afternoon games were enjoyed. Each one present had been asked to bring a picture of herself years ago, and these were numbered and placed about the room for the guessing contest. "Who's Who?" Mrs. C. E. Russell guessed the most. Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Hoskins chose sides for the hymn guessing contest, with Mrs. Bryant at the piano.

Those present were Mesdames Helen Scripps, T. Wright, Collins, Weaver, Hosking, Case, Winters, Brownfield, Warner, Hawks, Baker, Spickerman, Ingledue, Geier, C. D. Lusby, R. F. Kitterman, J. Smith, Pearl, C. E. Daily Price of Fog In London Is Fixed

LONDON, July 12.—Efforts to compute the cost of a London fog have been made by Lawrence W. Chubb, secretary of the Coal Smoke Abatement society. He places the loss to the city at $5,000,000 a day. Into this sum goes the loss to transportation companies; loss of time to individuals, estimated at $500,000 on the basis of 2,000,000 persons losing an hour a day, at 25 cents an hour; decreased efficiency of workers in industry; extra laundry bills and doctor fees, and damage to carpets and curtains by the soot.

JERSEYVILLE, Ill., July 11.—More than 2000 groundhogs in Jersey county will never see their shadows again. Their scalps have been turned in to Fred W. The drive on groundhogs started after they had done considerable damage to young trees, chickens and other fowls.

In spite of a drought and a locust pest South Africa will produce 50 per cent more cotton this year than last.

SQUATTER WAGES FIGHT FOR LAND

John W. Titus Wants Title To Quarter Section In U. S. Oil Reserve

By GIL A. COWAN For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—John W. Titus is a "squatter" extraordinary. He occupies 160 acres of 360 set aside by the United States government in Kern county, near the city of Taft, for townsite purposes. It is part of the United States naval reserves of which so much was heard during the Teapot Dome scandal at Washington.

Yesterday Mr. Titus was in Los Angeles, having his inning in federal court before United States Judge Frank H. Kerrigan. However, satisfaction of a full hearing was not given him, the case being continued until July 21, and the order restraining Titus from interfering with those who are erecting homes on the property made effective until July 22.

It appears, from records in the case, that the government has ordered 360 acres thrown open as a townsite named "Ford," perhaps in honor of the illustrious motor car magnate, whose timely withdrawal from the presidential race gave La Follette his opportunity. But that is irrelevant, as attorneys say.

Proof Is Protested. Mr. Titus has twice attempted to homestead the 160 acres which he now claims is his by right of possession, governmental ukases to the contrary. And each time his proof has been protested by the interior department on the grounds that the land is a part of a naval oil reserve over which the navy department has full control.

Other squatters there are who have built modest homes in the reserve while working for oil companies and it was necessary to establish a townsite. Streets are to run where many of these homes now stand, so the government generously granted inhabitants of Ford the privilege of selecting other sites before an auction of the 360 acres of town lots takes place September 15. Present residents have until August 15 to prove their claims and purchase their homesites at the nominal price.

But, when they began selecting the choicest of Titus' quarter-section, he ejected them. They appealed to the government, and the restraining order was issued. So far efforts to effect a compromise or adjudication in the matter have failed. Once again the attorneys are trying to convince Titus he has no claim, but he says he thinks he has, and it may take the Pacific fleet to convince him that he hasn't.

INDUSTRY KILLS CHARM OF RIVER

Avon, Beloved by England's Famous Bard, Is Now Stream of Death

LONDON, July 12.—The River Avon, beloved of Shakespeare and immortalized in his writings, has become a river of death. It still flows gently between wooded banks and through peaceful meadows, but it has become a martyr to the industrial development of England.

Pollution of the river by sewage from the industrial city of Coventry is responsible for what was once one of the most delightful streams in England becoming an evil-smelling river.

Anglers' Favorite. At one time the Avon was a favorite resort for anglers and teemed with fish. For more than two years no fish have been caught. Where water lilies used to bloom in profusion there are now boughs of trees that have fallen down to touch the waters have died.

Efforts are being made to induce the city of Coventry to make other arrangements for its sewage disposal.

VIOLINIST SAYS LOVE IS MOTIVE

Kreisler States That Women Are Moved by Affection At All Times

NEW YORK, July 12.—"Women are capable of creating anything as long as it is motivated by love," said Fritz Kreisler, Austrian violinist, just before sailing with Mrs. Kreisler for concert engagements.

"Man works chiefly in the abstract," he continued. "He divorces himself from his environment when he strives to interpret or create, but women never detach themselves from their affections. Women are creative, but in every instance the bias, the foundation, is love."

"As to music, if I don't get the most profound thrill—the thrill down the spine column—then I know that there is something wrong with what I am listening to or playing."

With an aerial and a loud speaker attached to his shoulders and chest, a man entertained crowds at a fair at Leipzig, Germany, with a radio concert recently.

"The present situation began with a dry winter, which caused the big city banks to tighten up, knowing that had there been no rain they would have had to carry the farmers for another year. Then the rain came, but it was insufficient and was followed by hysteria over the mild cattle epidemic."

Emergencies Met. "Had an embargo been placed on California products the situation would have been serious and the banks would have had to carry the farmers another year, as in the event there had been no rain. But the embargo was not placed and that condition likewise cleared up."

"Then there came the power shortage, which in turn, has been met in a satisfactory manner. Everything that has come to the state has been the result of drought, and at every turn the situation has been met. This series of scares have naturally had a disquieting effect on business, and a psychology of depression, based on this condition, has spread over the state."

"The condition, however, will vanish with the coming of fall and Southern California will emerge with more activity than ever. It is with this conviction that we are spending $100,000 to erect a four-story, 50 room hotel on our property at the southeast corner of Maryland and Wilson avenues."

STUDIES SAXOPHONE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 12.—Nell Mitchell having mastered the "saw," most peculiar of all musical instruments, now is learning to play the saxophone. Already she is accomplished as a banjo player, pianist, drummer, cornetist, not to mention the harmonica and other homely instruments. Miss Mitchell boasts of making her first fiddle "down on the farm," tying a horse's tail to a hitching post and hitting it with a stone in order to get the horsehair for the bow.

CHARLES KIDNAPING

SANTA ANA, July 12.—In one of those strange court cases that periodically appear, Mrs. Lorraine Grassale, aged 30, tells of being kidnapped by her husband and his brother and incarcerated in the Orange county hospital as "insane" without trial. She charges extreme cruelty on the part of her husband, soba punctuating her story of the night of terrors July 19 last year when she was dragged from her home in a nightdress and hurried to the hospital.

STEEL EAR RINGS

PARIS, July 12.—In one thing at least fashion today is consistent. With the helmet hat one must wear steel earrings. These are very long.

GOLDEN SLIPPERS

NEW YORK, July 12.—Golden slippers are here again. In the opera pump models they are extremely effective. They are made of gold kid skin and worn with "skin" hose.

STEALS STRANDED CAR

SAN BERNARDINO, July 12.—When C. E. Webster, sailor attached to the naval air station at San Diego, ran out of gas near here and left his car to get a supply, some thief towed the machine away, he reported to the sheriff's office.

DEAF MUTE IN COURT

SAN BERNARDINO, July 12.—George Hardy, deaf and dumb, is defendant here in the superior court charged with bootlegging at Barstow. The entire case is being presented without his hearing a word, questioning being done in writing as no interpreter competent to speak the sign language could be obtained.

600 FOOT EMBANKMENT

REDLANDS, July 12.—Owners of San Bernardino mountain resorts are financing a 600 foot fire-break to be built around the lakes at once to protect the resorts from the prevailing forest fire menace, it was announced today.

NO-STOCKING FAD

PARIS, July 12.—As the summer advances, gowns become less enveloping. Afternoon frocks now have no sleeves and there is an attempt to revive the fad for wearing no stockings.

CRETONNE POPULAR

NEW YORK, July 12.—Cretonne is reappearing once more today, not as a humble material but as a naughty ornament. In applique it trims the black lace gown.

Shower baths, rest-rooms, diners and electric fans are part of the equipment of some circuses.

Daily News Letter

By International News Service Correspondents

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 12.—Disease is caused by personal single selfishness, and a large percentage of bodily and mental diseases can be cured by faith healing, says Rev. C. Bertram Runnalls, eminent sociologist and rector of Calvary Episcopal church. Outlining his theory, Dr. Runnalls said:

"Our hospitals are over-crowded with the sick of Syracuse; our physicians, our osteopaths, our neuropaths and our psychopaths are working overtime.

"In our homes there are vast armies of men and women who are suffering all sorts of diseases, who are hiding their ills behind a false front. If they had a friend they could trust, like Jesus, they would be relieved of their torture.

"I firmly believe that a great percentage of them are as they are because of personal sin, or, in plain words, selfishness.

"I must pass to the huge crowd who are sick from functional disorders such as neurasthenia, psychasthenia, hypochondria, possessiveness and obsessions, or, in other words, a straight 'case of nerves.'

Examination Essential

"An honest self-examination is two-thirds of the cure.

"Much of this self-suffering interior unhappiness and ultimate ill-health comes from our shrinking from honest self-discovery.

"And so the consequence of living in a false dream, always saying, 'It is the other fellow's fault,' and 'he's to blame; we are doing all we can.'

"Half of us do not know ourselves. We are self-hypnotized, blind to our own weaknesses and shortcomings and awake only to those of the other fellow.

"That attitude of mind breeds resentment, retaliation and mental murder.

"We never create harmony by thinking hate.

"Now what do I mean by an obsession? Just this:

"Some people have the idea that they have been wronged badly, and they hold that thought until it colors everything they think about.

"It leads to a hopeless state of thinking in a circle, and the circle must be broken before any hope of understanding of things as they are reached.

Education of Will

"Education of the higher will is the second step to recovery.

"The higher will is on a higher spiritual plane. When our Blessed Lord was in the Garden of Gethsemane He had to make a life or death decision, and He said: 'Not My will, but Thine be done!'

"That is the higher will. And it follows three specific stages:

"1. Give up resentment.

"2. Be willing to surrender even your personal rights for harmony.

"3. By prayer, visible love and sympathy win the other's affection.

"Lastly comes the matter of personal religion. And what is that? Merely overcoming evil with good.

"Health, happiness, peace of mind that can stand anything, resist all diseases."

"Marion Gray" will be presented for the last time tonight by Murphy's Comedians at their tent theatre on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, between Brand boulevard and Central avenue. This play is adapted from the famous novel by Bertha M. Clay. The curtain rises promptly at 8 o'clock.

Starting Sunday, "The Grey Fox" will be presented for a week by Murphy's Comedians, announces Manager J. A. Menard, who states that this play is a comedy-drama that was to have been produced in New York and was cancelled by reason of the Actors' Equity strike. It is, therefore, something brand new and a genuine sensation. The tent opens at 7:15 o'clock for those who wish to select their seats.

Will Plant Trout In Well Watered Rivers

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Approximately 28,000,000 trout fry from the hatcheries of the state fish and game commission are to be planted this season, but special care will be taken to see that they are distributed in lakes, brooks and streams not likely to go dry, the commission announces.

Lack of water will result in killing thousands of fish during the late summer, the commission said.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LITTLE WREN
Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods, not far from his hollow stump bungalow, he heard a bird singing very sweetly. It was a jolly little song and it made the rabbit gentleman feel so happy that he said:

"I wish I could see what bird is singing so sweetly. I would thank it, for music is so wonderful. It makes the sad things joyful." "Here I am, Uncle Wiggily!" called a tiny voice. "I am a wren—one of the smallest of birds."

"But you are one of the sweetest singers!" said the rabbit, with a low and polite bow of his tail, silk hat. "Please sing again for me."

The wren opened his beak, filled his throat with air and trilled a lovely song. It made Uncle Wiggily feel even more happy.

After that, for many days, Uncle Wiggily hopped to the woods after his breakfast, to listen to the singing of the wren. But one morning, instead of the jolly song, the rabbit gentleman heard the bird sighing and saying:

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" "Whatever is the matter?" asked Mr. Longears. "Why do you sigh and say, 'Oh, dear?' Why don't you sing happily?"

"How can I sing when I am in trouble?" asked the wren. "One of my legs is tangled in some string that must have fallen into this tree from the kite of some boy. I can't get loose to fly home to my little wife. Oh, dear!"

"Let me help you!" begged Uncle Wiggily. And as the wren was caught in a tangle of string not far from the ground, the rabbit gentleman could reach up with his gnawing teeth, and cut the string.

"Oh, now I can fly to my home and wife!" chirped the bird. But, before flying away, he thanked Uncle Wiggily and also sang the rabbit a song. Mr. Longears watched where the bird flew, and saw him dart into a very tiny hole in the trunk of an old tree.

"My goodness! What a tiny house the wren lives in!" said Uncle Wiggily. "But then, being a small bird he only needs a little door through which to enter."

Uncle Wiggily stood outside the hollow tree, inside of which the wren family lived. The front door was no larger around than a twenty-five cent piece, or, maybe, a twenty-four cent piece, but it was large enough for the wren.

One morning when Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the forest, all of a sudden, he heard a rustling in the bushes.

"Perhaps this is my friend, the wren bird, coming to sing for me again," thought the rabbit. But his happiness was turned to sorrow when he saw the bad Bob Cat spring out.

"I'm going to get you!" howled the Bob Cat.

Uncle Wiggily didn't know what to do, but just then Mr. Wren stuck his head out of his tiny front door and cried:

"You may catch Uncle Wiggily, but you can't catch me! Tee hee! Tee hee! You can't catch me!"

Now the Bob Cat didn't like to be laughed at, so all of a sudden he sprang forward toward the tree and tried to catch the wren. But the bird chap darted back inside the hollow tree and the front door was so small—like a twenty-five cent piece—that the

Seeks Tax Exemption Because of His Age

OAKLAND, July 12.—Because they are barred from government employment and in some cases from private employment, American citizens over 45 years of age should be exempted from taxation, according to C. W. DeWet of Oakland, who styles himself "Exalted Stepper of the Loyal American Citizens." DeWet has written to Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan to determine the procedure to be followed in securing enactment of the special tax exemption law.

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Alex Mahan of San Fernando died at the Cottage hospital, Burbank, last night as the result of injuries received in a motor crash on San Fernando road Tuesday morning when the machine in which he was riding crashed with one driven by John Ireland of Long Beach. William Sessions was driver of the death car. He reported that he had swerved to the middle of the road to miss hitting a horse-drawn vehicle. The coroner will hold an inquest.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor Lulu:—Will you please send me your articles on High Blood Pressure, Constipation and Balanced Diet?"

"I suspect my husband of having high blood pressure, as he is short and fat and quite red-faced (though he is a darling). I'm just the opposite, tall and extremely thin, fit and nervous and afflicted with constipation until my life is one round of misery. Is there any possible cure for constipation of many years' standing?"

"Do you regard enemas harmful? Does chronic constipation have anything to do with the broken and noticeable veins in the face? Can they be removed in any way?"—Mrs. A. M."

I, too, suspect the darling has high blood pressure. One of the largest life insurance companies states that of all the cases examined for high blood pressure, the only cause it found consistently associated with that disorder was overweight. Whether this increase in the blood pressure is due to the extra pressure needed to force the blood through the fat, or whether it is due to chemical changes in the body through an extra supply of food material, is not known. Probably it is a combination of the two. You did not ask for the pamphlet on reducing and gaining. Had you done that, by this time both you and your husband would have been benefited.

Your constipation may be due to under-eating. That is a common cause of constipation. You have the article on the subject by now. I am sure you are profiting by it.

Apparently many people have used enemas habitually without harm. They are valuable means for temporary relief in cases of constipation, but of course, it is a nuisance to be dependent upon them. If they have to be used habitually, it is best to take the cool enemas, rather than the hot ones. The high, warm enemas are a valuable means of washing out the bowels in certain cases of colitis.

The broken veins in your face might indicate that you have a mild form of scurvy, and also your limited diet, and especially

Elect Officers

Mrs. Loretta Schwitters, past noble grand of the Carnation Rebekah lodge, was elected president of the Past Noble Grands club at the meeting yesterday afternoon. Other officers chosen are Mrs. Rosella Strother, vice president; Mrs. Clara Fry, recording secretary; Mrs. Winnie Hartley, treasurer.

The club is to meet on second and fourth Friday nights instead of in the afternoon, as previously. Meetings will be held at the various homes. Mrs. Schwitters will be hostess at the next meeting. One day a girl who had a tiny spider vein on the bridge of her nose. Her complexion was very fair and this tiny spider-like thing seemed (to her) to stand out like an oil well aflame, so it worried her considerably. One day she was buggy driving with her fiancé (this was before the automobiles were so common), in crossing a street, they ran into a funeral procession. They bumped into the hearse and their buggy was overturned. They were both scratched up a bit and the girl had the skin over the broken vein on her nose scraped off. When the crust which formed over this spot fell off, to her everlasting joy the girl found it carried the little vein with it and there was no scar left. Their superstitious friends were worried about the outcome of that marriage, considering it an ill omen to be upset by a funeral procession.

That you must not be superstitious is verified by the fact that they did marry and lived happily ever after, most of the time. I know. I was the girl.

Voyaging East

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Rowley and daughter Marion, who are passengers on the steamship Manchuria, bound for New York via the Panama canal, expect to reach New York July 16. They are to make their headquarters with their son, Robert Rowley, in Schenectady, and take countless pleasure trips from there. They will motor through the New England states and will pay Washington, D. C., a visit. Late in August, accompanied by their son, they will go to Detroit, Mich., where they will purchase a new automobile, in which they will motor west across the continent, stopping at places of prominence and interest. They will return home the middle of September.

Luncheon Honor

As a pre-nuptial honor for Miss Pearl Adair, who is to become the bride of Arthur Kribs of Los Angeles at a wedding early in August, Mrs. Virginia Freeman of 316 West Dryden street was hostess at luncheon yesterday at the Chateau de Quail on East Broadway. Her guests were members of the Virginia Four quartet, of which Miss Adair is first soprano, and also Mrs. Roberta T. Young, accompanist. U. S. Tourist Invasion Of Europe Is Slight LONDON, July 12.—This year's American tourist "invasion" into England threatens to be the smallest on record, according to prominent travel agencies and shipping authorities.

Steamship agencies report that ships built to carry two and three thousand passengers have been coming Europeanward only half full, while the authorities at Southampton assert that a total of 1,600 passengers in an east-bound steamship has only twice been reached this season.

W. R. C. Affair

The Women's Relief Corps met yesterday afternoon at the G. A. R. hall on South Glendale avenue for the regular monthly business meeting. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Mary Bennett. At this time Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel tendered her resignation as treasurer of the corps. During the recent convention at San Diego, Mrs. Houdyshel was appointed press correspondent for the department of California and Nevada and as this will require considerable of her time she will not be able to hold the office as treasurer of the local corps.

Plans were also inaugurated for the regular all-day meeting to be held Friday, July 25. Besides the regular routine business, two candidates were initiated.

INSANITY'S GRIP BROKEN BY WORK

Light Exercise Prescribed to Aid Patients in New York Resort

ALBANY, N. Y., July 10.—Doses of work and light exercise is the "medicine" which is being used to cure thousands of insane people in this state, according to Dr. O. Floyd Haviland, head of the State Hospital commission. According to Dr. Haviland, this plan of treating insane and mentally weak patients has emerged from the experimental stage and is a complete success.

Adult patients with minds like children have been so greatly improved by being fed work and exercise, instead of drugs and medicine, that their parole is possible. Others, whose disorders are incurable, are brought to a condition where it is much easier for attendants to care for them.

The system under which this is accomplished is known as mental therapy, and New York state was the first to adopt it in its institutions for the insane.

BOLL WEEVIL IN AMERICAN FUTURE

ARIZONA, REPORT DIRIGIBLE FIELD

Steps Taken to Prevent Any Spread of Plague to Cotton Lands Here

Akron, O., May Surpass Big German Plant, Asserts Noted Engineer

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Following discovery of a species of boll weevil infesting Arizona cotton fields near Tucson, Ariz., federal and state authorities have declared a non-cotton growing zone extending over a radius of thirty-five miles from the infested fields, it was said today by G. H. Hecke, chief of the California Department of Agriculture.

Governor Hunt of Arizona also has ordered destruction of 8,000 acres of cotton now growing in the infested district, promising reimbursement to growers by the state.

"California cotton growers are menaced by the appearance of this boll weevil," said Hecke. "A species of wild cotton, growing in the Arizona mountains near the cultivated product around Tucson appears to be the home of the pest."

"California's interest in this situation lies in the fact that Arizona and California cotton fields are contiguous and if this boll weevil becomes established in cultivated cotton fields across the border, it will unquestionably in time spread to California's cotton growing sections."

A. C. Fleury, supervising quarantine officer of the California department of agriculture, is in Arizona investigating the situation, with a view to determining what action is being taken by Arizona officials to eradicate the pest in the wild thurberia cotton plant, which is a native. Meanwhile, Hecke has issued orders that all cotton seed and seed cotton from Arizona must be denied admittance to California.

In the original scheme for election of heads of the United States, it was expected that each member of the electoral college would vote for two candidates, the one receiving the most votes being president and the one with the next number being vice president.

From time to time I receive letters from my bride readers, asking me how they can be certain that their oven is "medium," "slow," or "hot," and asserting that they have suffered after failure in cake-baking.

There is no doubt about it, incorrect baking is the cause of most cake and pie failures. And until the housewife learns to judge of the temperature of her oven merely by putting her hand into the oven, as the old cook does, she needs an oven thermometer.

Any up-to-date hardware store today carries oven Fahrenheit thermometers. If, however, the particular store in your vicinity does not carry them, write to me, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and I will gladly send you the name of a thermometer factory which makes such thermometers and will sell you one by mail. (Indeed, they make not only oven thermometers but such other cooking thermometers as deep-fat frying thermometers, candy and icing thermometers and the kind which stand on a fireless cooker disc to determine the correct temperature.) These all cost around $2.50 some of them less, and come with directions for using.

The following table of temperatures, however, may vary slightly from the directions given by manufacturers. This table is based on my own personal experience with an oven Fahrenheit thermometer. The stove I used was either gas or oil. Put your thermometer in the oven (some kinds clamp on the oven shelf with a screw device, others hang from the barred wire shelf by a hook fastened in the top of the thermometer). Be sure to place the thermometer well back in the oven. Do not put the food in to bake or roast till the thermometer registers the proper heat, as follows:

Baked custard (set in a pan of water), 360 to 375 degrees F.
Baking powder biscuits, 475 to 480 degrees F. Bread, start at 435 degrees, then reduce oven heat to 400 degrees F. Layer cakes containing butter, 400 to 410 degrees F. Loaf cakes containing butter, 375 to 380 degrees F. Sponge cake, 340 to 350 degrees F. Fish, start at 425 degrees, then reduce to 350 degrees F. Meats, start at 500 degrees F., then reduce to 400 degrees F. Muffins, 400 to 450 degrees F. Pastry, 460 to 480 degrees F. Souffles, 360 to 375 degrees F.

To use the "Thermostat" thermometers found on oven doors, simply use the above given table, but reckon from 50 to 70 degrees less than these figures given for Fahrenheit.

Tomorrow—Canning Corn by the Intermittent Method.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department, will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

LONDON, July 12.—Although owning the great business of Baldwin's, biggest engineering concern in Britain, ex-Premier Stanley Baldwin has confessed that he is a poor man.

These Representative Firms, Professional and Business Men Emphatically Say "NO"

— HERE'S THE SITUATION —

Several of the municipalities in Southern California are getting "in Dutch" with motorists, according to complaints reaching the legal department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, says M. R. Towman, manager of the club's Glendale branch.irate auto drivers have been coming to the club headquarters in increasing numbers, all with the same story of being made victims of traffic rapacious revenue collecting systems countenanced by town authorities.

A favorite subject of the typical complaints lodged are several towns in proximity to Los Angeles, which places have extensive city limits. It is alleged that the motorist is inside the town limits some distance before any resistance district is encountered. In the absence of a large and prominent sign the motorist does not slacken his speed to conform with the 20-mile limit while apparently going along country roads, and, as a result, is arrested and made to pay a fine for a technical breach of the law.

The direct charge has been made to the legal department of the automobile club that these situations are not the result of chance, but have been carefully studied and are utilized to fatten the town treasury. It is even alleged the officers making the arrests are forced to go to the extreme limit of legal technicality in apprehending motorists, as it is demanded of them that they produce sufficient revenue to the town to pay for their own salaries and overhead.

Threaten Boycott

It is charged that these customs prevail in quite a number of Southern California towns, and the result will be a boycott of these communities on the part of the motoring public. Those familiar with automobile traffic of the present time point out that it must be a rich community, indeed, that can afford to antagonize motor travel. This was made apparent throughout the state some months ago when the hoof and mouth disease quarantine regulations caused partial suspension of automobile travel.

It is pointed out by proponents of good roads that the money from fines now goes into authorized funds for maintenance purposes, but if abuses are practiced by communities the legislature may see fit to take away this community privilege and turn this revenue into the state funds.

A Little More Judgment on the part of authorities in the matter of enforcing traffic regulations in Glendale will save our community a black eye among motorists.

—There is no doubt about the justice of arrests in a great many cases where the laws are flagrantly disregarded; but it has been our observation during the last few days that it is a difficult feat to avoid arrest, especially in the Colorado Blvd. and Glendale Ave. district.

—Why not formulate rules that are flexible enough to cover the cases? As it stands now the motorist must pay his fine with no chance of a comeback except by the expenditure of considerable time and money on his part. —It looks like a one-sided deal. This does not mean that we sanction speeding, but the motoring public pays heavily for the privilege of riding, so why burden them with unjust arrests?

Careful Drivers Should Not Be Subjected To Arrest

The Evening News believes that safe and experienced drivers of autos in Glendale have a right to demand that they not be followed and arrested without cause. Put those in charge of traffic who have uppermost in their minds the lessening of accidents and not the gaining of revenue for the city, and then, and only then, will justice prevail. No one has any use for the lawbreaker and the reckless speeder; but the best and safest drivers who have never had an accident are often the ones who through some technicality are caused to pay fines.

GOTHAM GLAD AS CONVENTION ENDS

Delegates Failed to Bring Volume of Business Stores Expected

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, July 12.—"Never again," that was the mutual sentiment expressed by some New York merchants and some delegates to the Democratic national convention as the latter departed for their homes. New York merchants and amusement men and hotel proprietors in many instances were disappointed at the volume of trade which followed in the wake of the convention, while delegates were thoroughly worn out and anxious to get back to their homes.

The first week of the convention undoubtedly brought a fine volume of business to the retail merchants, especially those dealing in women's wear, but the number of visitors attracted to the city did not come up to expectations and the sales directly attributable to the convention fell off after June 28. Delegates who had not counted on a long drawn-out stay began to conserve their resources and shopping excursions were abandoned.

Many Disappointed
The larger hotels were full, but the number of out-of-town arrivals failed to fill a large part of the accommodations provided by the smaller hostels and in apartment houses. Apartment owners who counted on obtaining large revenues from the rental of furnished apartments for a week or ten days suffered disappointment in nearly every case. The restaurants did not do well with the exception of the dining rooms in the hotels where headquarters of the politicians were located.

The theatres suffered severely. Many productions which were held over for the convention or which were opened with the convention, were forced to close and even the outstanding successes in the theatrical field noticed little additional rush for tickets. Speculators who had taken over large blocks of tickets for the first week of the convention were left with them on their hands.

In addition to their complaint over the amount of money spent by the delegates themselves, the merchants, both wholesale and retail, complain that the convention kept other bona fide buyers away. They declare the general impression was prevalent throughout the country that New York was crowded by convention visitors and that it was better for prospective buyers to postpone their trip to the metropolis until the Democratic candidate was named. This also affected the hotels and amusement enterprises.

Radio Is Blamed
Installation of radio receiving sets in many of the wholesale and retail stores during the convention was deeply regretted by some distributors. They declare that it was impossible for a salesman to secure the attention and arouse the interest of a buyer on a bill of goods while the radio was repeating the line "Alabama casts 34 votes for Senator Oscar W. Underwood," which became almost as prevalent as "Yes, We Have No Bananas" of last year. Salesmen signed with relief Wednesday after the nomination of John W. Davis gave assurance that thereafter they could approach a customer without the cheers and yells in Madison Square Garden ringing in their ears from the ether.

However, the attitude of the merchants and hotel men and of business men throughout the country in general was more hopeful today. There was a general feeling since uncertainty as to candidates and platforms was a thing of the past and the world would run in normal channels for a time, at least, and that buying postponed until the convention should be over would make itself evident.

Salt Lake Will Hold Baseball Franchise
LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Enough money has been raised in Salt Lake city to pay visiting clubs guarantees and the Utah city will maintain its franchise in the Pacific Coast baseball league, President Harry Williams announced today.

Negotiations to give the Mormon franchise to Vancouver, B. C., have been ended and Salt Lake will finish the season Williams said. William Lane, owner of the Salt Lake team, confirmed the announcement.

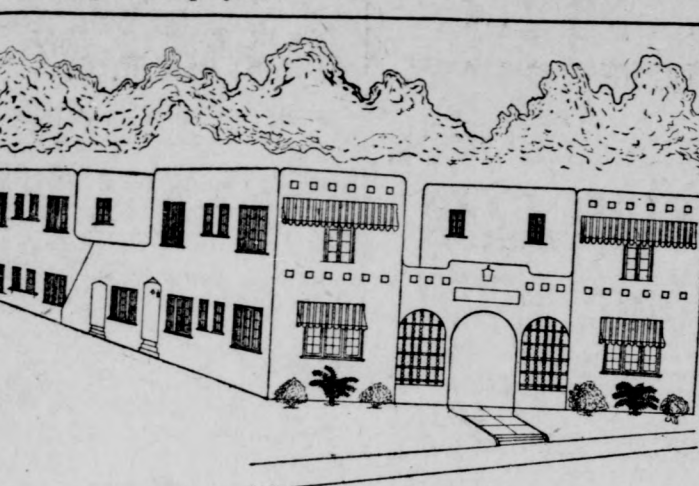

It was said that Salt Lake has already been notified it will have no team in the league next season, and Long Beach, San Diego or Vancouver will not get the franchise. The plan is to put another club in San Francisco to be located in the Mission district. This will give San Francisco continuous baseball.

Apartment Court Goes Up

E. W. SIMMONS of Los Angeles erects two buildings that each contain five units and embody every modern feature that appeals to the home maker. BURTON MCGINNIS arranged the financing of the project.

Burton McGinnis, 213 East Broadway, local representative of Home Builders' Loan association, Pomona, and California Security Loan corporation, Pasadena, has financed through the latter company for E. W. Simmons, Los Angeles, the apartment court now under construction at 311-313 West Harvard street. The improvements consist of two two-story buildings, each containing five units of three rooms and bath with every up-to-the-minute convenience. The unique features of the apartment court are outside exposed stairs leading to the second floor with a roof garden and play yard for the four second floor tenants. The structures are stucco on armature (metal) lath, which insures a perfect wall, free from cracks.

Mr. McGinnis, who devotes his attention exclusively to loans and who during the last fifteen months has financed over $250,000 of new construction in Glendale, which provided homes for eighty-two families, states that business is active and that he now has $100,000 available for first class loans, especially for the construction of single bungalows for the use of the owners.

American Relay Team Establishes New Mark
first trial, Bruno topped stepped and jumped 15 metres, 42 1/2 centimetres, within 10 centimetres of the world record and more than five centimetres beyond the Olympic record that had stood since 1908.

The Olympic record of Bruno failed to stand in the final, Winter of Australia setting a new world's mark of 15 metres 52 1/2 centimetres. This is a fraction of an inch beyond D. F. Ahern's mark of 50 feet 11 inches made in 1909. Bruno, however, took second place.

The American Olympic committee lodged a protest over awarding Finnish runners the team victory in the cross-country race, claiming that one of the Finns had been coached from the sidelines.

Here Is Standing
At the end of the day's events with the final scores of the decathlon missing, the United States held a lead of 59 points over the Finnish. The score stood: United States, 194; Finland, 135; England, 63 1/2; Sweden, 26 1/2; France, 19 1/2; Hungary, 11; Australia, 10; Norway, 7 1/2; Argentina, 5; South Africa, 5; Canada, 5; Norway, 4; New Zealand, 4; Denmark, 3; Japan, 1.

Results of the decathlon will be announced tomorrow.

Norton and Osborne, the American hopes in the decathlon, finished their chances of finishing first and second in that event by winning first and second in the pole vault. Norton was top man with a vault of 12 feet 5 inches and Osborne was just below him.

Paavo Nurmi, the wonderful Finnish runner, won the 10,000 metre cross-country race, finishing 400 metres ahead of Willie Ritola, his countryman, and bitter rival. It was Nurmi's third first place and established him as the greatest of all Olympic runners.

Iodine In Water to Combat Goiter, Plan
MINNEAPOLIS, July 12.—Municipal authorities are planning to use about $5000 worth of iodine annually in the city water supply to combat a growing prevalence of goiter, reported by physicians.

AGREEMENT OVER SEWER IS REACHED

Los Angeles Mayor Signs Document; Confer Over Construction Type

The amended sewer agreement between Glendale and Los Angeles was delivered to the city of Glendale this morning, signed by Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles. The agreement has already been signed by Mayor Spencer Robinson of Glendale and bears the signatures of Robert Dominguez, Los Angeles city clerk, and A. J. Van Wie, Glendale city clerk.

The next step is for the Los Angeles city council to pass an ordinance granting the city of Glendale permission to construct sewers within the Los Angeles city limits. Such an ordinance has been introduced and will probably be passed by the council of that city early next week, according to Virgil B. Stone, Glendale city manager.

A similar ordinance has been passed by the Glendale city council, granting the city of Los Angeles permission to construct sewers within the Glendale city limits. These ordinances are necessary to fulfill certain requirements of the amended agreement between the two cities, Mr. Stone states.

Ratification Sought
The next step will be to have the proposed type of construction ratified by the Los Angeles bureau of public works, and Mayor Spencer Robinson of Glendale has for the past several days been holding conferences with Los Angeles officials to this end.

Following ratification of the proposed type of construction, every step then having been completed to make a bond issue legal and valid, the $1,600,000 in bonds authorized by the voters of Glendale will be advertised for sale, either in whole or in part, according to Mr. Stone.

When a market has been found for the bonds and the money is in the Glendale city treasury, bids for the construction of the sewer will be advertised and the work will proceed.

More Than Two Million Dollars' Loss In Oregon
PORTLAND, Ore., July 12.—Forest fires in Oregon during the past few days have swept approximately 10,000 acres of timbered and logged off lands, state forestry officials estimated today.

No estimate of the monetary loss has been made, but it is believed that it will reach more than $2,000,000.

J. R. Casperson of Portland lost his life yesterday when he plunged off a cliff while trying to avoid a falling burning tree in a fire near Tillamook. Anthony Stanton, also of Portland, was injured when struck by a falling tree in fighting the same fire.

The big Santiam forest fire near Albany, Ore., was considerably checked today after sweeping 5,000 acres. High winds arise, it is expected to die down as is the fire near St. Helens.

COMMENT That's All

Punish Fire Bugs Our New Citizens Wealth From Farms The Toll On Films

By Gil A. Cowan

Many Glendale residents have noticed the smoke over the mountain horizon to the north. Thousands of acres of brush and timberland, many cabins and a few ranch houses in the sparsely settled area of northern Los Angeles county have fallen prey to the great destroyer—fire.

The material loss of the hour is not great, perhaps, but nothing can replace vegetation in that great watershed except nature itself and nature is slow. The sage and the scrub oak, the chaparral and the pines are absolutely essential in the storage of water which feeds the streams and the springs of the southland.

Similar fires of greater material loss in timberland are reported in the north. Practically all of these blazes are of incendiary origin, or the direct result of carelessness. Paul G. Redington, United States district forester, has ordered more than a million acres of California forest reserves closed to the public. It is a wise move.

But of more importance is the severe prosecution of those persons found responsible for firing these vast areas of charred hillsides. For the burning of one house in an arson case prisoners have been sentenced to 25-year terms in penal institutions. For the malicious firebug in the hills similar penalty should be inflicted.

In this cosmopolitan community readers undoubtedly are interested in immigration. Under regulations effective Thursday the British quota, which is the largest of all, will permit but 34,007 to enter the United States during the fiscal year.

Ten per cent of the total will be admitted monthly until the quota is exhausted. Already 75,000 seek admission to America's land of the free. Think of the number who are doomed to disappointment!

The greater thought, however, is the appreciation which should be shown by the more fortunate ones. There are more than 1,000,000 unemployed in Great Britain at the present time. Little wonder so many would come to America, where they eat meat every day (although to vegetarians) wear silk hosiery, enjoy annual vacations, ride to work in motor cars and care not to work more than eight hours out of twenty-four unless it is our own business enterprise.

The foreigners in our midst believe it all too good to be true—this American life of ours. Others become intoxicated with their new-found freedom and, believing this to be a Utopia, endeavor to revolutionize the scheme of things.

Now that we have limited and selective immigration it should be the duty to Americanize each and every one of those entering our portals and make this a more homogeneous nation, for it is a fact we have too much class and too little distinction which is fast breeding trouble. And these in turn bring the taproots of our western civilization.

While Glendale basks in the sunshine of building prosperity, as evidenced by the S. W. Straus survey; there are other sections of this country which are due for their share of good times.

Kansas and other wheat growing primers will see the farmer liquidating his past debts with the revenue from grain this year. The middle west should feel elated over the high prices for hogs which are foreseen. California will share in these benefits, having grain and live stock of its own, and no negligible factor, by the way.

Sometimes methinks we speak too much of building, real estate, motion pictures, foreign trade and commercial activities generally in the southwest and pay too little attention to our agricultural potentialities.

Cattle, fruit, grain and vegetables are great resources. Widely scattered and not highly pressagated they are industries which provide thousands of our people with a generous share in the world's wealth. Think of catling worth upwards of $100,000 on the dairy farm and ranges of this state! Figure out how many cantaloupes were contained in the 15,000 refrigerator carloads shipped from the Imperial valley this season! Note the market reports showing top prices paid for California fruit! Read of the world-wide distribution of Sunmad raisins, Sunkist oranges and Diamond walnuts, not to mention a score of other brands!

It will do our tourists and summer guests good to know that we are not alone dependent on them. Yet they are a splendid medium for spreading the gospel of California, and we welcome them for they are novitiates to this wonderland who will return with their worldly all to share in the upbuilding of a Pacific empire.

Surprising it is that motion picture magnates, members of the combine, if we are not mistaken, should see anything wrong in a similar organization taxing them to the utmost in telephone toll charges.

No doubt 10 cents looms large as an established price for consumption between Los Angeles and its suburbs, yet the whole issue is one of service. Gladly do we pay a dollar and more for a dinner in the metropolitan district which would cost but 40 cents in a farming community.

There is no question but what the motion picture theatres are exacting a tremendous toll from the public considering the small

FACE HARD GAME AT BEACH SUNDAY

White Sox Play El Segundo In Final Summer Loop Scheduled Contest

By Gil A. Cowan

Facing one of their hardest contests of the season, the Glendale White Sox players will leave tomorrow for El Segundo, where they will play the final Summer League game with the beach city team. The pale hose wearers are determined to make tomorrow's contest consecutive victory No. 23, while the El Segundo boys are equally determined to gain a victory.

In addition to the honor the beach city lads would gain by stopping the championship team after the White Sox had gathered the scalp of twenty-two teams in a row, the victory would assure El Segundo of third place in the Summer League. Gilmore Oilers are the runners-up in the race for third place, while Glendale has clinched top spot, and secondary money will go to the Pasadena Merchants.

For these, and various sundry reasons, tomorrow's game should be one of the fastest semi-pro contests ever staged in Southern California. The White Sox drubbed the beach city lads 3 to 2 in an appearance in Glendale, although Bell, pitching ace for El Segundo, allowed the Sox only four hits.

Fans to Attend
Hundreds of White Sox fans will make the trip to El Segundo tomorrow afternoon to see the contest. Happy Weintz, Carl Sawyer's only rival as a diamond comedian, will uncork his clever line of antics for the pleasure and amusement of the fans, while Sawyer has a few new tricks up his sleeve he will pull.

Referee will be in the box for the Sox, with Big Boy Sullivan doing the receiving. Shellenback will cover first like a wet blanket. Carl Sawyer will cavort around second, and Shields will stop 'em in the vicinity of third base. Hirikoyen will be in all his glory at short. In the outer gardens will be Cy Young, Glendale's own Babe Ruth; Charlie Dorman, much-sought player, and Frenchy Orsatt, who spears 'em all.

NEW YORK CLOSING

H. J. DUZEND For International News Service

NEW YORK, July 12.—Industrial stocks gathered momentum as the short session of the stock market proceeded today, and, while the volume of transactions was again comparatively small, the trend of prices was toward higher levels. The rally in American can, Baldwin and other equipment stocks as well as in the specialties, carried prices of these issues to the highest level for the movement, and in some cases to the highest of the year to date.

The most prominent development prior to the opening of the market was the announced reduction in gasoline prices which followed the marking down to crude oil prices by a number of large buyers and rumors of drastic cuts in mid-continent crudes.

The gain of more than 1 cent in sterling exchange, following yesterday's sharp rise, again emphasized the steady improvement in England's financial situation. The stock market was also favorably affected by the strength and activity of the grain markets.

The equipment stocks assumed the leadership in the first hour of trading and a new high for the year was recorded for American Locomotive, while Baldwin, Lima and New York Air Brake scored gains in the maximum of nearly 2 points.

Specialty and public utility stocks were featured by a brisk rise in Davis Chemical, Owens Bottle, Philadelphia company, United Railways Investment and Colorado Fuel, Jones Tea and General Asphalt.

Chesapeake & Ohio was again the feature of the railroad share list, Pittsburgh & West Virginia hung up a new high at 50 1/4 and New York Central was active around its previous close.

Stock sales today totalled 405,400 shares; bonds $3,550,400. Stock sales for the week to date 5,454,000 shares, bonds $68,307,000.

employment they give locally. Just as the telephone combine has its local, regional, national and manufacturing "fingers in the pie," the motion picture theatre has its lessees, owners, operators, corporation, booking offices, producer, actors, authors, manufacturers and patentees to pay.

To be a bit more explicit, there is Eastman company making the film, Edison and others controlling the camera field, there are the stars commanding tremendous guaranteed salaries and division of the profits, the authors get their royalties, the producer takes his profit, the booking office shears a certain percentage from the sales, the operating corporation pays dividends to bondholders, the owners of houses make small fortunes from the leases, which leaves but little for low salaried resident managers and two or three fairly paid mechanics and organizers, who, with a group of "kid" ushers, whose meager pay is a shame, complete the personnel of any well organized house.

In brief, it would appear that American institutions are reaching the stage of too high organization, not only in business life, but in social and personal affairs. For which we "pay the toll."

Poland sent more than $2,000,000 worth of undressed furs to this country last year.

Ex-Premier Foresees Revival of Religion

LONDON, July 12. — David Lloyd George believes that the world is on the eve of a great spiritual revival.

The ex-premier gave this opinion when addressing a meeting of young Wesleyan ministers at Calver, in Derbyshire.

"I have been in the conflict of politics all my life," said Lloyd George. "I have been in war conflicts. I have led the life of a combatant."

"There has been a materialistic hardening, but that will pass away."

SCORES BATHERS IN SCANTY SUITS

'Show-Offs, Beach Posers'
Says Judge In Fining
Prisoner $25

NEW YORK, July 12.—Male bathers, attired in extremely scanty swimming suits on the beach at Coney Island, will be sent to jail after this, Magistrate James J. Golden, of the Coney Island court, announced, after hurling such a garment into the face of Jacob Alexrod, of Brooklyn, as he stood before the bench. Alexrod was bathing at the foot of Stillwell avenue in a suit which was alleged by patrolmen of the Coney Island station to be inadequate. They served him with a summons charging disorderly conduct. When the suit was exhibited in court Magistrate Golden, after examining it, and throwing it into Alexrod's face and fining him $25, said:

"Men of your type who come to our wonderful beach at Coney Island and mix with women and children in a bathing suit of this kind, with its narrow shoulder straps and low-cut neck, are nothing but show-offs and beach posers. There is nothing anybody likes to see more than a man or a woman in good-looking bathing attire, but there's only one place for men like you, and that's the City Prison."

Sufferers from insomnia can be relieved by using pillows stuffed with watercress, according to latest investigations.

C. OF C. BOARD IN STORMY SESSION

Personal Exchanges Lead to Threat of Resignation
From President

TUJUNGA, July 12.—Verbal encounters of an uncompromising nature marked the July meeting of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce and precipitated the announcement by President L. H. Fisher that he would offer his resignation from office and from membership in the organization.

Business accomplished during the lulls in oral encounters was: Appointment of a committee to investigate the proposed annexation of territory in the Verdugo hills to the city of Glendale for the purpose of building a skyline road between that city and Sunland and developing the hills as residential sections; a motion to reconsider the previous decision to join a central committee composed of representatives of Sunland, Valley Center and Tujunga; a resolution to join the round table discussions of the committee; appointment of a committee to foster interscholastic baseball between the schools of Tujunga, Sunland, La Crescenta and La Canada.

Stormy Session

President Fisher's announcement that he would resign followed the adoption of a motion to reconsider the action of a previous meeting, which has for its purpose the advancement of improvements of common interest in the three communities. Mr. Fisher made charges that some of the votes of the directors were controlled by one man, Leon Carr, vice-president of the chamber. This charge was refuted and efforts made to persuade Mr. Fisher to reconsider his decision to resign.

It was then announced that H. Fraser had resigned as director and George D. Brooks appointed in his stead. Judge H. H. Breidt, past president of the chamber, charged that Mr. Fisher had demanded Mr. Fraser's resignation with alternative of being "kicked" out. This charge was also refuted and the discussion became simultaneous and uncompromising. The meeting finally was adjourned with a rift still in the lute and future action of the principals left in doubt.

REVIVE ANCIENT ART OF ARCHERY

Devotees of Yew Bow Slay
Big Game In Arizona
Mountain Ranges

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, July 12.—The ancient art of archery again is coming into its own—not as a native method of killing the wild fowl and fleet-footed animals of forest and prairie, but for sheer sport in wild game hunting.

There is displayed in one of the downtown banks the products of a modern archer, Earl B. Powell, who resides at 212 North Grand avenue. Many passersby tarry to view the exhibit, which includes the powerful yew bow, which is strung with gut, to send the steel-pointed, feathered arrows home.

Causes Shudders
The arrows with their highly-colored plumage are a most novel part of the complete exhibit, the businesslike tip sending a shudder into the hearts of those who would fight the Amazons or other tribesmen who use the bow and arrow.

An archer's equipment includes a steel helmet, according to the material on display, the same sort of a "tin hat" as our doughboys wore overseas in the trenches. Another protection for the knight of the bow is a leather bracer guard for the firing arm.

A large yew bow has the kick of a mule, one is told, and it takes experience to string it so broken bones are not received. Of course, the bow and arrow recall the days of Robin Hood, when knighthood was in flower, and knaves rode forth to hunt the elusive deer. But in this day and age sportsmen amuse themselves

Radio Entertainer Weds

Thousands of fans listened in as WEDNELL HALL, famous radio artist, and MISS MARION N. MARTIN were married, the ceremony being broadcast from a New York station.

NEW YORK, July 12.—There were so many "witnesses" at their wedding that they themselves do not know how many there were. They won't even attempt to send all of those who heard the ceremony a piece of the wedding cake.

When Miss Marion N. Martin, Chicago newspaperwoman, and Wendell Hall, known all over the country to radio fans as the "Ever-ready Entertainer," were wed, the ceremony was broadcast from station WEAF of New York.

Congratulations from radio fans are beginning to pour in on the Halls from many states, and they wouldn't be surprised if some came in from overseas.

AUTHOR TO VISIT STORIES' LOCALE

Writer of Wild West Tales
Coming Here for First Time in Life

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Clarence Mulford, Brooklyn author known to the reading public as a writer of stories of hair-raising deeds and marvelous adventures in the wild west, is on his way to California, the locale of many of his episodes, on his first visit west of the Missouri river, according to word received today by the state library.

Mulford visioned the west in imagination and wrote all his books, such as "Hop-a-Long Cassidy," "Bar 20 Days," "Bar 20" and others within sight of the Statue of Liberty that guards New York harbor.

He will travel, through months in the golden west, although prior to leaving Brooklyn he said, "No doubt it will cause many lost illusions."

GUIDE AIRPLANES IN FOG BY RADIO

Successful Flights Made as Visibility Impossible,
But Ships Safe

DAYTON, Ohio, July 12.—Depending solely upon radio for their bearings, Captain W. H. Murphy, radio engineer, and Lieutenant A. J. Lyons, McCook Field pilot, flew 140 miles recently through a dense fog without mishap.

The journey, from Wilbur Wright Field here to Columbus and return, was made to test the practicability of the newly developed radio "finding service." Air service officers said it was proved successful in every detail.

While the plane remained in its course a sharp letter "T" was sounded at short intervals in Captain Murphy's headphones. When they veered to the left the letter "A" was heard, and the letter "N" notified the flyers that they were to right of their course.

The flight was made through a fog that would have made flying prohibitive without the aid of the radio finding device, it was said.

With the Indians' implements of warfare by hunting wild game, Hunt Big Game

Archery has become the vogue in society circles, and one Bay City doctor makes annual trips to the jungles of Arizona, out of Prescott, to kill the mountain lions and other wild animals with the device of the aborigines.

It looks impossible that the arrow is more deadly than the gun, yet such is the claim made. The only differences are that the aim of the gun is more certain, and it is much more easily handled.

Mr. Powell has one of the most unusual manufactories in the southland, but we are becoming accustomed to the unusual here.

THEATRE PATRONS SPEND HUGE SUM

Attendance at Film Houses
Shows Immense Growth
During Past Year

Forty million more persons attended motion picture theatres and other places of amusement in southern California during the fiscal year ending June 30 than during the corresponding period of 1923 and the amount of money spent for amusement in 1924 exceeded that of 1923 by $7,652,658. These figures were the outstanding feature of a special survey completed yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

Total attendance for the 1924 fiscal year reached the staggering figure of 191,443,072, as against 151,298,660 for the 1923 fiscal year, an increase in attendance of 40,144,412.

$7,652,658 Gain

Some idea of the extent of the amusement business in southern California is disclosed by the fact that $36,465,348. was spent for admissions to motion picture theatres and other places of amusement during the 1924 period compared with $28,812,796 in 1923, showing a gain of $7,652,658 for the present year.

The immense sum of $3,190,718 was collected in admission taxes during the present fiscal year compared with $2,652,644 for the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1923.

That the wave of prosperity in the amusement line is being maintained is evidenced by the increase in admission tax receipts for June, which represents May business.

Business Barometer

For June, 1923, the tax collected indicated attendance for the month of May of 17,900,000, as against 14,941,000 for the corresponding month of last year, an increase of 2,959,000. The tax receipts show that $3,670,000 was spent for amusements during May of this year, as against $3,065,000 for the same period of 1922.

"People do not spend such immense sums of money for amusement when times are hard. Such increases in amusement expenditures come only during normal business periods," said Collector Goodcell.

think the girl of the present day is made of the right sort—certainly not the girl of the night club and the dance hall.

"Girls who live in the Colonies and those who live in the open-air life of the country have more of the independent, self-relying spirit that is needed today."
